Mexicans Routed By Record Flood

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas offered refuge to whole cities of Mexicans Saturday as the biggest flood in 34 years rolled down the Rio Grande and the bodies of six more victims of Hurricane Beulah were found across the border.

Standing in the path of the flood were Matamoros and Reynosa, Mex., their normal populations totaling 175,000.

But many residents had fled earlier to higher ground both in the United States and Mexico and the number remaining in these cities was unknown.

Rio Grande City housed 11,500 refugees in emergency centers and private homes. Of this number, 9,000 were from Camargo, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande.

Like their countrymen downstream, the Camargo people had been warned to evacuate before the Rio Grande's historic crest here. Those who didn't were trapped.

Officials said some 200 residents of Camargo were still stranded on rooftops and in a hotel. U.S. Coast Guard helicopters were trying to pick them up. Another 600 persons, a National Guard officer said, were isolated in a village near Camargo.

So far, no large exodus from Matamoros and Reynosa had begun, but the flood crest was still 100 or more miles upstream.

Officials in Reynosa and the neighboring village of Rio Bravo reported finding six more bodies of Beulah's victims, raising the death toll in northern Mexico to nine and the total since the hurricane's birth in the Atlantic to 44. The South Texas death count was eight. The great storm had killed 24 persons in the Caribbean and the Yucatan Peninsula before striking the Texas-Mexico border country.

A government expert reported that all the damaging forces found in hurricanes—winds, tides and heavy rainfall—approached record levels in Hurricane Beulah. The mammoth storm threw off about 100 tornadoes—95 of them confirmed—by far a record.

The state climatologist of the Environmental Science Services Administration said Beulah was probably the second billion-dollar hurricane in history. The first was Betsy, which hit New Orleans in September 1965.

The report said Beulah's winds were clocked at 145 miles per hour or higher. She rolled tides 10 feet or more above normal across Padre Island. Rains up to 20 inches were measured officially and 30 inches unofficially.

The Rio Grande's historic flood found duplication in streams in a vast area reaching from above Corpus Christi on the coast to San Antonio deep inland and on to Laredo on the Mexican border.

Within the area, almost every town and city showed signs of wind and water damage. Many were cleaning up. Others remained in trouble.

Orders to evacuate everyone from the two Mexican cities came from Tamaulipas State Gov. Praxedes Balboa. The Cameron County, Tex., sheriff's office said the evacuees were expected on the U.S. side.

The Edinburg Daily Review said the Matamoros evacuation was expected to be 100 per cent. At a late hour, the refugees had not arrived, but the flood crest still was 150 miles upstream.

Civil Defense spokesmen said 100,000 Mexicans along the low-er river hold green cards—work permits that give admission to the United States—if such formalities mattered in such a disaster.

Harry Lewis, director of civil defense at Brownsville, said at Brownsville that the bridge is open and "if they (refugees) come, we'll take care of them."

Matamoros housed 80,000 in shelters at the height of Beulah's winds, but this was against the blasting force of the hurricane and not against high water.

Many of the U.S. valley towns were in good shape with water and some electricity, but sew-

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko (l) listens as U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg tells the U.N. General Assembly last week that the Vietnam War should be ended as soon as possible by a political solution. Goldberg called for the "active participation" of all U.N. members in such a quest for peace. Gromyko later called United States efforts for peace a "soap bubble." (UPI Telephoto)

UK, USSR Discordant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain failed Saturday to get the Soviet Union to agree that they should reconvene the Geneva conference on Indochina to seek peace in Vietnam.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, cochairmen of the conference with authority to renew it, conferred for an hour and a quarter in Brown's Carlyle Hotel suite in New York.

Diplomatic sources understood that both sides stated their well known positions on Vietnam and in particular there was "no give on Gromyko's side."

In the past, Gromyko had repeatedly turned down proposals from Brown that they set up a new conference for settlement of the war in Vietnam like those held in Geneva in 1954 on peace and independence for North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos and in 1962 on peace and neutrality for Laos.

In the U.N. General Assembly Friday, he made no response to a suggestion from U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that the Soviet Union join with Britain in reconvening the conference with a view to a political solution of the war. He had just described every U.S. peace initiative as "a soap bubble intended either for domestic or for external consumption."

Brown's meeting with Gromyko began a series of high-level diplomatic talks on the fringes of the assembly, which convened here Tuesday.

Their talk was described as "friendly and relaxed." Brown was understood to have stated Britain's view that a U.N. special representative should be sent to the Middle East to help settle things there after the Israeli-Arab war of last June.

Gromyko was said to have indicated that that might be difficult for the Arabs—but without actually turning down the idea.

Both were understood to have felt that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's recent suggestion for high-level private meetings of the Security Council needed further study.

Later, Brown had a three-quarter-hour talk on the Middle East and other subjects with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in the New York apartment of Lord Caradon. Then he gave a luncheon there for Couve de Murville and Foreign Ministers Muhammad Adeb El-Amiry of Jordan, Takeo Miki of Japan, Torsten Nilsson of Sweden and Marko Niketic of Yugoslavia.

Meanwhile, Thant was lunching with Gromyko at the Soviet U.N. mission in New York in advance of a "discussion dinner" the secretary-general is giving in his office here Tuesday for the big four foreign ministers.

In an unusual Saturday meeting, the 122-nation assembly adopted an agenda of 94 items and decided to give high priority to the situation in the Middle East for debate in plenary meetings after the general debate ends Oct. 13. There was brief Soviet-U.S. debate before Korea was put on the agenda, but the seating of Communist China, disarmament and other controversial questions went on without a word.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said Saturday night the American people "do not trust the Johnson administration and his advisers to do what they say or say what they do."

In a speech at a Republican fund-raising dinner, the Illinois senator said "under the Johnson administration truth has been dishonored on a broad scale."

Percy, rated a potential contender for the GOP presidential nomination, said the Johnson administration has followed a "pattern of deception in its reports on the war in Vietnam."

"Almost everything Lyndon Johnson said in the 1964 campaign about Vietnam was misleading," he said.

"In some respects, he has done precisely what he said he would not do. Ten days before the election, he promised, 'we are not about to send American boys nine or ten thousand miles to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves.'"

"Yet he has sent American boys in ever-increasing numbers to fight an Asian war for the Asian people."

Nixon Leads As GOP Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like players in a colossal coast-to-coast chess game, Republican presidential hopefuls are maneuvering for a strategic position from which to strike against their opponent's king next year.

President Johnson is the symbolic chess king the Republicans seek to checkmate. Jockeying for the right to oppose Johnson's expected re-election bid will intensify as the Aug. 5 GOP nomination convention in Miami Beach, Fla., draws nearer.

An Associated Press sampling of the shifting political sands shows most party professionals think Richard M. Nixon now is leading the race for the nomination. But many of these pros are hedging their personal bets, waiting for a trend to develop.

Two factors—the rise in Gov. Ronald Reagan's political stock and the dip in Gov. George Romney's standing in the polls—have caused Nixon, generally considered a conservative, to search for allies among party moderates.

Romney's supporters, while trying to regain ground the Michigan moderate lost in the recent flap over his Vietnam stance, are keeping a wary eye on the every move of Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, a relative liberal.

At the same time, they are thanking their lucky stars that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is a friend instead of a foe.

Rockefeller, who insists he is not and will not become a candidate, promotes Romney's cause daily. But in a recent Louis Harris poll, Rockefeller himself emerged as the strongest potential Republican candidate, displacing Romney who tumbled from first to fourth.

Here's a rundown on the top five GOP presidential prospects:

NIXON
The former vice president is starting to draw on the cache of political IOU's he stashed away during his many years as a Republican workhorse—especially in 1964, when he plugged faithfully for Goldwater and in 1966, when he crisscrossed the country campaigning for GOP congressional candidates of every ideological stripe.

Party regulars, from county chairman up, place high value on such loyalty—one big reason why Nixon ranks at the top when party officials are polled. It's this "loyalty" tag—he hasn't won an election on his own since 1950—that Nixon agrees he must overcome.

He lost the Presidential race in 1960 and then the governor's race in California.

"I have to be dramatically effective in the primaries," he said in an AP interview. "If I can't demonstrate the ability to win, I've had it."

REAGAN
The California governor, darling of many Republican conservatives, plans trips during the next six weeks to Illinois, South Carolina, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Kansas and Texas—the heartland of Nixon's Midwestern and Southern base of support.

"He could be trouble," one Nixon supporter said of the former actor, "if we lose the primaries."

Another strategist put it more bluntly. "If Reagan goes into the primaries and starts winning," he said, "Nixon's supporters will leave him like flies."

Reagan said he will not allow his name to be entered in the New Hampshire primary but his (Turn To Page 29)

Soviets Increase Support

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union signed agreements Saturday to provide extensive military equipment and economic support to North Vietnam in 1968. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin called it "a very important event."

A communique hinted that the 1968 Soviet aid program would be larger than this year's, estimated by U.S. officials to be in the neighborhood of a billion dollars.

Speaking later at a Kremlin reception for the North Vietnamese delegation, Kosygin declared the Soviet Union will "do its utmost" to help North Vietnam and added: "The aggressors should know that today they will not evade punishment for their deeds."

He reiterated full Soviet support for North Vietnamese peace demands, which include total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam. Tass relayed Kosygin's remarks shortly after reporting that President Ho Chi Minh had sent thanks to Soviet leaders for the new aid.

Squall Capsizes Many Boats On Mich. Shoreline

FRANKFORT, Mich. (AP) — A treacherous Lake Michigan squall packing high winds and a blinding rain lashed 40 miles of shoreline Saturday, capsizing hundreds of small fishing boats. Four bodies were recovered. Eight people were injured. A Coast Guard plane that flew over the area from Empire to Manistee before dusk reported many small boats bottom up off shore, raising fears that the death toll would mount, but might not be known exactly for hours or even days.

The Coast Guard, State Police and the Benzie County sheriff said four persons were known dead by body count and they said they had reports of a fifth drowning. At one point they had reported as many as seven dead, but revised the count downward later.

"We have reports that people are in the water all over. It's really bad," said Benzie County Sheriff Thomas Kenney.

Men on horseback roamed the beaches in search of bodies as darkness fell. Hundreds of boats were strewn along the shoreline and many more tossed helplessly outside the five-foot surf.

A blinding rain swept in with the squall and cut visibility to nearly zero for hours, making early rescue efforts all but impossible.

Ten to 15-foot seas diminished toward evening and the sun broke through briefly to help the Coast Guard plane, cutters, a helicopter and several big private yachts as they prowled (Turn To Page Eight)

Rusk Denounces Castro Dominion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A key foreign ministers committee was reported to have agreed Saturday night on a hemisphere condemnation of Castro-communist subversion and on urging free world countries to curb their trade with Cuba.

However the nine-nation committee, drawing up proposals at the Organization of American States conference on the Cuban threat, made slower-than-expected progress.

The 21-nation hemisphere parity is slated to wind up its three-day session Sunday by action on the formula worked out by the nine-nation sub-group.

As the committee recessed between closed door sessions Saturday night, informants said the foreign ministers had generally agreed on the first two of nine recommendations by guerrilla-troubled Venezuela.

These were: —A condemnation of what Venezuela termed the Fidel Castro regime's "persistent policy of intervention in the internal affairs of other American states."

—An appeal to free world nations to restrict their commerce with Cuba "until such a time as the Cuban government ceases its policy of intervention and aggression."

The conference sources said the foreign ministers were still keeping the exact language open for changes.

Also, they said, there was a division of opinion over whether the resolution to be finally adopted tomorrow should be specific on what to do about limiting Western trade with Cuba.

Some participants felt that instead of outlining a concrete action such as blacklisting of companies dealing with Cuba, the OAS resolution should be worded and released.

FIRST ARREST IN RIGHTS CASE MADE

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Bloomington police, armed with a warrant charging discrimination against a Puerto Rican man and his wife, made the first arrest Saturday under the city's month-old open occupancy ordinance.

They arrested Mary Doerr, 69, who owns a two-story, three-flat apartment building in Bloomington. Policeman Michael Leary quoted Mrs. Doerr, who lives at another address in Bloomington, as saying her other tenants threatened to move out if the Puerto Rican couple moved in.

The warrant was sworn out by Jesus Melendez and his wife, Jo Ann. It charged Mrs. Doerr with refusing to rent an apartment to them Tuesday.

Mrs. Doerr was freed on $25 bond for appearance Monday in the Magistrate's Division of Circuit Court.

Vietnam Ranks First In National Interests

EDITOR'S NOTE—Americans have a lot of things on their minds, and foremost among public issues seems to be Vietnam. In this article, result of a random sampling of representative citizens, you hear them voicing their concerns on a broad range of issues.

NEW YORK (AP) — What national concerns are uppermost these days in the minds of average Americans?

A random sampling of representative citizens in three major cities, probably offering clues to far more widespread attitudes, shows that topic No. 1 is Vietnam. Racial unrest, high prices, turbulence among young people rank high among others.

From about 100 people interviewed in Chicago, Washington, and New York, a typical reply to the question, "What's worrying you right now?" was that of Joan Kahn, who works for a New York book publishing firm: "Vietnam. What else?"

A New York mother of two college students who face the military draft upon graduation declared, "I'm tired of the war, tired of the high taxes necessary to finance it, tired of the so-called Negro revolution, concerned about the deterioration of the city."

Linda Giragosian, a young Washington secretary, said that in her view the worst problems are "the Vietnam war and the older generation's attitude toward the younger generation."

"We should get out of Vietnam," said Miss Giragosian. "There's no sense in messing around. We're not going anywhere and we're wasting so many young people's lives."

Edward Miller, a factory guard in Skokie, Ill., who has a draft-age son in college, said the Vietnamese war has him up tight "but I don't know what can be done about it."

"We have to stay there because if we don't the Commu-

Percy Criticizes Administration At GOP Meeting

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said Saturday night the American people "do not trust the Johnson administration and his advisers to do what they say or say what they do."

In a speech at a Republican fund-raising dinner, the Illinois senator said "under the Johnson administration truth has been dishonored on a broad scale."

Percy, rated a potential contender for the GOP presidential nomination, said the Johnson administration has followed a "pattern of deception in its reports on the war in Vietnam."

"Almost everything Lyndon Johnson said in the 1964 campaign about Vietnam was misleading," he said.

"In some respects, he has done precisely what he said he would not do. Ten days before the election, he promised, 'we are not about to send American boys nine or ten thousand miles to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves.'"

"Yet he has sent American boys in ever-increasing numbers to fight an Asian war for the Asian people."

Guns Stay Hot In DMZ Battle

SAIGON (AP) — High-flying B52 bombers bracketed the beleaguered Marine outpost at Con Thien with tons of explosives Saturday night and Sunday as part of a massive U.S. effort to still Communist guns that have killed 41 Leathernecks and wounded 600 in 12 days.

Also thrown into the American counterbombardment were barages from U.S. naval guns and air strikes by smaller bombers. The Marines themselves fired more than five shells a minute Saturday in their round-the-clock duel with North Vietnamese rockets, artillery and mortars.

In three separate attacks Saturday, enemy shells wounded 59 Marines, 13 of them seriously enough that they had to be evacuated.

Overhead, B52 Stratofortresses unloaded perhaps 150 tons of bombs on enemy positions in the buffer zone and above it, inside North Vietnam itself. Each of the eight-engine jets is capable of carrying 30 tons of explosives. They flew in two waves over the DMZ area in support of the Marines holding out at Con Thien, 2½ miles below the zone that divides the two Vietnams.

Some strategists express belief the Communist rocket and artillery attacks are a prelude (Turn To Page Eight)

Tass Says Civil War In China Is Imminent

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said Saturday major battles between forces for and against Chairman Mao Tse-tung in provinces stretching 1,800 miles across Communist China have given rise to reports "that a civil war is possible or is already raging."

Tass, which has correspondents in China, did not give the sources of its information. But its comments appeared based largely on intelligence reports issued by Nationalist Chinese on Formosa.

The news agency said important clashes occurred in Shensi, Szechwan, Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces after military units tried to enforce a Sept. 5 order for anti-Maoists to turn in looted arms. It said troops were commanded to use persuasion on the dissidents, then to fire warning shots and, as a last resort, to shoot to kill.

Reflecting the ideological split between Communist China and the Soviet Union, the Tass reports on events in China have been critical of Mao and have emphasized the disruptive effects of Mao's 14-month effort to purge his opponents led by President Liu Shao-chi.

The news agency said leaflets circulated in Peking by Red Guards, Mao's youthful revolutionary agents, told of Maoists being surrounded in Hupeh Province and cut off from food and water in another area.

Other leaflets, Tass said, reported that Maoists were burned alive in a medical institute in Szechwan after they refused to surrender to their enemies.

Westmoreland: South Viet Army More Effective

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's army is better than it was a year ago but still not fully effective because of continuing corruption, a fear of fighting at night and leadership weakness caused by heavy officer casualties, Gen. William C. Westmoreland said Saturday.

The commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam said his opinion of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam—ARVN—is based on positive and negative impressions.

"And over-all," he added, "the outcome is positive."

Westmoreland gave his views in an interview with The Associated Press while on a field tour.

The South Vietnamese army has come under mounting criticism in recent weeks because of the increasing commitment of American troops.

Westmoreland contended much of this criticism is outdated.

"Perhaps a year ago it might have been true, but not so today."

ARVN is "not fully effective, the way I want it to be," he said, "but they're better than they were a year ago."

Leadership is a big problem," he added.

Asked if U.S. officers could be used to a greater extent in ARVN, Westmoreland replied: "As much as the traffic will bear. It will now bear more than it did a year ago."

He explained that the South Vietnamese troops at one time resented Americans in command.

BOARDING AT QUINCY — Mrs. Lyndon Johnson holds her hair against the wind as she and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey (C) are greeted by boat captain Willie Barilleaux in Quincy. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Humphrey rode a tugboat Thursday down the Mississippi to Hannibal, Mo., from Quincy, a distance of 18 miles.

The Power Of The Press And The Stigma 'Portly'

By DAVE BURGIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Fearful the capital press corps might give him similar treatment, California Republican Chairman James W. Halley had an earnest plea. "Please," he told reporters, "I would be very happy if you could use one of those nice words to describe me, as you have other state chairmen.

Words like aggressive, hard - working, vigorous . . . "You see, one writer out in California described me only as 'portly.' My wife clipped it out, Xeroxed it, then pasted a copy on every mirror in the house!"

Annually, one of the biggest gripes on Capitol Hill comes from senators and congressmen irked by the way some Hill females dress, wear their hair, etc.

The miniskirt, for example, is a no - no. The reason for this, observers feel, is that no man (or woman) in public office wants to be upstaged by a well-turned gam or a tight sweater, too much make - up or a way - out hairdo.

So it came as no surprise when the Senate Rules and the Administration Committee issued this rather terse statement last week:

"Mrs. Myrtle Oliver has been approved as manager, for one year, of the Senate Beauty Shop."

Mrs. Oliver wasn't available for comment, but observers feel she will stick to more conservative hair styles.

If Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D - N. Y., ever stuck out his tongue and said to Sen. Sam Ervin, D - N. C., "My staff can lick your staff any day," you'd have to go along with Bobby.

Kennedy's full - time staff numbers 46 to Ervin's 9. Kennedy's staff is the Senate's largest, Ervin's the smallest.

One can assume hopefully, that Kennedy and Ervin won't ever be caught standing around sticking their tongues out at each other. Yet in the Senate, staff sizes have in the past caused considerable bickering — over expense, popularity, prestige, seniority, etc.

Generally, those senators with large staffs justify them by coming from larger constituencies, or by having bigger jobs within the Senate. Those with smaller staffs like to boast of how they save taxpayers money.

Then you have guys like Sen. Mike Mansfield who spoil it for everybody. As Senate majority leader, Mansfield could command the Senate's biggest staff, yet he gets by with a mere 16.

Acquaintances here of former Rep. Robert Barry, R - N. Y., one of the candidates running against Shirley Temple Black in a special California congressional election, were chuckling last week over Barry's demand for equal time if any of Shirley's old movies are shown on television.

But one old friend of Barry's isn't laughing now. The friend, who passed on the rumor that television would grant equal time if Barry restricts appearances to singing, dancing and rolling his eyes, now says, "I think he believed me and is willing to do it."

Anti-Missile Decision

The prolonged controversy over whether the United States should deploy a system of defense against ballistic missiles has rather abruptly come to an end. The die is cast, now, with announcement that President Johnson has ordered a "thin" anti-ballistic missile complex to protect some of our largest urban areas.

One may speculate as to what brought this decision in the face of Secretary McNamara's sustained opposition. Senator Pastore's public warning that his potent Joint Atomic Energy Committee would take up the cudgels for an anti-ballistic missile system as it once did for the hydrogen bomb and the nuclear submarine, may have been a contributing factor. There also is reason to think the administration was swayed by reports that the Soviet Union is pushing hard to develop multiple warheads which might greatly increase the potential effectiveness of its big missiles.

Whatever it was that tipped the balance in favor of deploying a missile defense system, events have provided supporters of the plan with numerous arguments in its favor. One of the most persuasive is that our government has had no success in working out agreement with the Soviet Union not to deploy anti-ballistic missile defenses; indeed the Russians have to some extent gone ahead with this. Communist China's swift development of nuclear capability, which Pastore rightly describes as "a dramatic and upsetting event," also argues strongly for better defenses.

It does not follow that the President's announcement should be greeted with unalloyed satisfaction. The cost of even the "thin" system now contemplated is high—an estimated four to five billion dollars. Pastore appears to be interested in a full-scale system, which would cost above 20 billions. In any case, once started it is likely that McNamara's earlier prediction will be borne out—that is, areas not under the "thin" system's umbrella will set up such a clamor that the government will be forced to approve the full-scale deployment after all.

The monetary cost is clearly not the sole pertinent consideration. There can be no stinting where national security is involved. But two questions arise.

Will our undertaking to deploy an anti-ballistic missile system not prompt the Russians to go all-out along the same lines, thus touching off another costly and perilous round in the armaments race? The answer is almost certainly yes. The other question—one that we can only hope will never be answered—is whether even a nationwide defense system of this kind would avert enough hostile missiles to make it worthwhile. We may well be setting out to spend many billions on something which, save for its deterrent role, may ultimately prove to be of dubious value.

The New Look In Marriage

Trial marriage for a five-year period, "healthy" adultery to make wedlock more tolerable, and a premarital "apprentice period" to test compatibility.

How's that for a package prescription to cure matrimony of what's ailing it?

You think someone has to be kidding—that they're putting us on?

Apparently not, for two speakers at the recent convention of the American Psychological Association in Washington, D. C., offered the suggestions with professional mien and straight faces.

Marriage, said Mrs. Virginia Satir, a psychiatric social worker at the Esalen Institute at Big Sur, Calif., might well be made a five-year renewable contract.

If the first five years were a flop, the marriage could be dissolved without undue stress and strain. If it worked, it could be continued for another five years. And so on.

What about the children? Mrs. Satir had thought of that.

Children of dissolved marriages, she said, could be reared by substitute parents specially trained in child-rearing.

"The significance of blood ties," she commented, "is mostly in our thinking."

Mrs. Satir also proposed an "apprentice period" during which a couple contemplating matrimony could test their compatibility.

The thought that adultery may be just what the family circle needs to make it "slightly more tolerable" was offered by Dr. Albert Ellis, a New York psychologist.

But, he cautioned, the adultery should be healthy. Healthy adultery, he said, is better than mah jongg or television.

And what is "healthy" adultery?

Well, said Dr. Ellis, a healthy adulterer has the ability to carry on an extramarital affair without destroying his marriage and family relationships.

"Hordes of healthy husbands and wives" he asserted, "become involved in extramarital affairs."

He may be right, but he probably would agree that hordes of other husbands and wives seem to get along without such diversions—and that many of them are apparently healthy. And happy.

If the learned speakers who offered these proposals to their learned colleagues at the convention were kidding, it's unfortunate that they were taken seriously.

If by any chance they were serious, it's nice that they were so handy to a psychiatrist.

New Viet Senate: Good Augury

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Hidden behind the fanfare of the presidential election, a quiet political revolution has occurred in South Vietnam.

Regardless of whether the recent elections were well or poorly run or whether the Senate election with 480 candidates for 60 seats was a lottery or a bona fide election, a man - by - man analysis of South Vietnam's newly elected Senate shows an unusual number of extraordinarily high caliber.

Example: Generals Huynh Van Cao, Tran Van Don and Ton That Dinh are army men noted as being incorruptible in a military - political setup in which many high - ranking officers have been openly on the take.

A group of young Vietnamese army colonels who have been working to end corruption in the army have looked to Cao as their leader. They suffered a major setback when he was removed.

Example: Dr. Dang Van Sung is a courageous Saigon newspaper publisher known both as a sturdy critic of the government and a strong fighter against the Viet Cong.

Sung has stood up to the Viet Cong in the face of several assassination attempts. The VC, in one attempt on Sung's life, killed his top editor. But Sung went ahead with publishing the pieces the Communists wanted suppressed.

In Saigon's seamy politics, Sung is known as an incorruptible man.

Example: Tran Huu Phong, as first governor of the National Bank, established a high reputation for honesty in financial matters, a reputation he has held ever since.

Vietnamese contacts of this reporter have gone through the list of men elected and discussed in detail the characteristics of the senators - elect.

Not all men elected are of the high caliber of the five listed above. Some of those chosen are corrupt, bumbling and weary men. But taking the 60 - man group as a whole, the average standing is markedly high.

The victory of good men is significant. Under the new South Vietnamese constitution — which some of the senators - elect helped write — the chief executive is considerably weaker than under the U.S. constitutional system and the Senate and Lower House stronger.

For example: The Vietnamese legislature can do more than censure the prime minister. It can remove him by a three - fourths vote even over the objections of the president. By and large the new Senate is likely to be neither pro nor antigovernment. It includes a surprising number of men who are stubbornly independent in their thinking and actions. Sometimes this has hurt their careers.

As did the Constitutional Assembly, the Senate is likely to hold out against pressures brought by President - elect Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, providing the senators are backed by U.S. assurances this country will stand for no unconstitutional actions by South Vietnam's president or its military.

Ann Landers: Money Isn't Everything

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: My husband has been offered an excellent promotion but it means we must leave this city where we both have family. Both sets of grandparents adore our children. When my parents heard of the promotion they were happy for him and offered their congratulations.

My husband's parents, however, have been trying desperately to get him to pass up the opportunity because "money isn't everything." They have pointed out that they will not live forever (an astute observation), and that we would be unspeakably selfish to move from this city and deprive them of the joy of seeing their grandchildren grow up.

I am certain others must have written to you about this problem. What did you tell them? — BEWILDERED

Dear B.: I told them money isn't everything. There are other things that should be considered — independence, personal integrity, making sacrifices (such as leaving one's parents) in order to advance professionally or in business.

Children owe their parents respect, consideration and kindness. But they do not owe them their physical presence after they have reached adulthood. Call the van, and good luck to you.

Dear Ann Landers: Last Fall we sent our pretty 18 - year-old daughter off to college. We are not well - fixed financially and it was a sacrifice to send her with the proper wardrobe.

By December we learned that she was doing everything besides studying, and I do mean everything. When she came home for Christmas vacation she told me she thought she was pregnant. Fortunately, she was not, but it was a horrible two weeks for both of us.

Because she did not flunk out she felt she should be allowed to return to college. So, after much haranguing, her father and I agreed. How can I be sure she has learned her lesson and will conduct herself in a respectable manner? I am awake nights worrying. — MOTHER

Dear Mother: You might as well get some sleep, because staying up nights will not help you OR her. By the time a girl goes off to college her pattern of behavior is set. You can do nothing now except hope to heaven the scare taught her something.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 19 - year - old guy with an unusual problem. Two years ago I started to grow to love a wonderful girl. We are hoping, God willing, to be married in two or three years. The problem is that she is always sending me small gifts.

I am putting myself through college and I can't afford to buy her anything. It makes me feel like less of a man to be on the receiving end most of the time.

When, out of need, I buy myself a new shirt I feel guilty. I think perhaps I should have spent the money on her. I have tried to explain, but she says she gets pleasure out of buying me things and I should not deprive her of it.

How can I get her to see that all I need is her love? — THE RECEIVER

Dear Receiver: The girl is obviously a generous sort, and since her gifts are gifts of love and not designed to obligate you, accept them graciously. In return, write her a poem or a warm letter of thanks. Or send her a trinket which costs a dime but has special significance. An imaginative gift can be far more impressive than an expensive one.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Thirty or so deaths are caused each year in the United States by allergic reaction to bee or wasp stings, says The World Almanac. This toll compares with 14 deaths from poisonous snake bites. Allergic symptoms have been recorded since ancient times. Egyptian hieroglyphic tablets indicate that King Menes died from a hornet's sting nearly 5,000 years ago.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 —

Born today, you are an idealist who never loses hope either in the progress of human beings as the most elaborate and complex creation of nature, or in the progress of the world. You realize that evil exists, but you firmly believe in the basic goodness of men and in their basic good will, and wish to see things improved. You would make an excellent spiritual leader, social worker or, though it might sound strange, director of a penal institution.

Your desire to regenerate the good in all men makes you a person sought after by others, for such a desire causes you to be sympathetic, generous, and entirely understanding no matter how grave the problem or offense of another. You are forgiving — but this does not mean that you will overlook bad behavior. You believe that people should make restitution for their evil acts — but you firmly believe that when they have done so, all should be forgotten.

Your love for other people in general and for children especially is a recognized fact. Even those who don't know you well realize almost at once that your hand and heart are open to friendship of the firmest and fondest sort. You will make a loyal and loving spouse and an enviably good parent — for all these reasons.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, September 25
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Self-deprecation will get you nowhere. Pick yourself up out of the doldrums and get on about your business — the sooner the better.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Rely on your own inner resources to help you solve the day's problems. Others may have answers — but they may be the wrong ones.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Accept a new challenge willingly and begin at once to act vigorously upon it. A good day for making gains.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — You may be able to make the opposition capitulate through force — but sweet persuasion would be the safer method.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — The wise Aquarius will refuse to withdraw from the scene of action. Important happenings may be just around the corner.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — Benefit best through private transactions with others. Only take care that all your transactions are honorable ones.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — Bear in mind that reflection is not the same as thought, and wisdom not the same as knowledge. Don't become over-confident.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — You have a great many resourceful friends and could well find the solution to present difficulties by enlisting their aid.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — It may take a daring move on your part, but you can take a giant step forward in business or profession if you're courageous.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)

Poison-Spined Fish Endanger Aquanauts

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A potential danger for Sealab 3 aquanauts—poison-spined fish likely to flock to the underwater habitat like tourists to a new hotel—is under study by scientists at the University of Southern California.

from Sealab 2 off La Jolla, Calif., by a variety of scorpion fish called a sculpin.

The sculpin and other venomous marine creatures may be a hazard also to inhabitants of Sealab 3, scheduled to be lowered 430 feet to the ocean floor near San Clemente Island off Southern California early next year.

Dr. Findlay Russell, USC professor of neurology, says "sculpins are generally found around reefs. An underwater vessel becomes another reef to them, and they tend to congregate around it as if it were a new hotel." If they like the accommodations, they stay.

Finding ways Sealab 3 divers can avoid being stung when they leave the 2-by-20-foot tank-like vessel is a major part of a study under way by Russell and Dr. Paul Saunders, USC biologist, supported by the office of naval research.

Carpenter and others have described the pain caused by venom from spines along the sculpin's back as severe. Although seldom fatal, the sting can incapacitate a man for several hours or even days.

Police Use Tear Gas To Quell Rampant Crowd

MAYWOOD, Ill. (AP) - Police used tear gas to control crowds which formed in racially tense Maywood Saturday night, after a man being pursued by police as a burglary suspect was shot in the neck near the scene of a rally.

The suspect's car crashed in front of a building where the rally was taking place, Capt. Berner Kellogg said. A 9 p.m. curfew in Maywood had been ordered Friday by Sheriff Joseph Woods after 30 persons were arrested, following a series of rock throwing incidents.

Disorders began Friday at Provido East High School, when Negroes complained that there were no Negroes among the winners of a home-coming queen contest. The queen and her four-girl court were white.

The Saturday night disturbance broke out some 45 minutes after the shooting. Some 300 Negroes were involved, tossing bricks and bottles through store windows.

Police said 35 sheriff's deputies and 40 Maywood policemen were at the scene. Fifteen neighboring suburbs were also sending officers to Maywood.

The ASC community committee chairman, vice chairman, and third regular member automatically become delegates to the county convention at which farmers are elected to fill vacancies of the ASC county committee. The alternate committeemen become alternate delegates to the convention.

The "Year Ahead" statement is issued traditionally at the beginning of a new academic year on the three campuses-Champaign-Urbana, Chicago Circle and the Chicago Medical Center.

Henry predicted that enrollment on the three campuses this year will be at least 45,519 students, 1,982 more than last year.

"Once again," he said, "the university will enlarge its task to provide educational opportunity for a number of additional young people. However, it is with deep regret that we have been unable to enroll many students whose applications met admissions requirements."

"In spite of notable physical expansion in recent years," he continued, "building progress has not kept pace with student demand and the university has the unhappy task of establishing priorities among those who seek to enroll."

Says Protest Is Financial Threat

URBANA, Ill. (AP) - The Vietnam war and student protests threaten the growth of the nation's universities, President David Dodds Henry of the University of Illinois said Saturday.

"The financial pressures upon the federal government, resulting largely from the Vietnam war, are causing a leveling out—sometimes even a diminution of—federal support to the activities and program of colleges and universities," Henry wrote in his annual "Year Ahead" statement.

"The previous unified support for extension of educational opportunity is threatened by more than budget problems," the statement continued.

"Student disorders in many parts of the country, however unrepresentative of students generally, are disquieting, raising in the public mind questions in the system itself," it added.

The U of I administration will make a "renewed effort to establish meaningful and appropriate involvement of students in the evolution of university procedures and policies," Henry said, referring to last year's student protests at the university. Students demonstrated last year chiefly against the Claiborne Act, a state law forbidding Communists to speak on campuses of the University of Illinois.

The "Year Ahead" statement is issued traditionally at the beginning of a new academic year on the three campuses—Champaign-Urbana, Chicago Circle and the Chicago Medical Center.

Henry predicted that enrollment on the three campuses this year will be at least 45,519 students, 1,982 more than last year.

The Hideous Hog and the other members of Victor Mollo's bridge menagerie were primarily rubber bridge players. Today we find the Hog engaged in match point duplicate.

Most players would rebid three diamonds over their partner's two spades, but not the Hog. The hand just might play in hearts and in that case he wanted to be the first to bid that suit.

Looking over dummy carefully, he remarked, "We might have bid a little more," and proceeded to take dummy's ace. Then he ruffed a spade with the ace of trumps, entered dummy with the queen of clubs, ruffed another spade; entered dummy with the ace of clubs, ruffed dummy's last spade, led his last trump, overtook in dummy, drew the rest of the trumps, laughed triumphantly when West showed out and explained that he had just made an overtrick for an absolute top.

His reasoning was that for a grand slam in either no-trump, hearts or diamonds showed up in one hand the grand slam would be on, and that he had played so as to make seven against that 4-0 diamond break.

His reasoning was good but when the scores came in his six hearts bid, seven made, turned out to be a very poor score.

It just happened to be one of those poor duplicate games and no one reached seven. No one reached six no-trump either and the field divided between six diamonds by South and six hearts with North as declarer.

Poor duplicate or not, everyone knew about the Lightner slam double for an unusual lead. With South declarer at six diamonds East would double for a spade lead. The spade lead wouldn't do any good and South would make his doubled contract.

With North declarer at six hearts, West would double for a diamond lead. He would get to ruff that diamond but North would have no trouble with the rest of the tricks.

Travel Talk

by Thelma Bacon

United States citizens must have passports for travel in most countries. Not all countries require visas.

To obtain a passport, you must go to a Passport Office. If there are none in your city, the clerk of any Federal Court or authorized state court can complete your application.

You must bring proof of citizenship (birth certificate, naturalization papers, baptismal certificate, affidavit of birth) and two recent, front-view photographs. A group photo is necessary when an entire family is to be included in the passport.

Passports cost $10 and are good for three years. Allow at least three weeks for handling.

Travelers must present a smallpox vaccination certicate, validated by the local board of health. This is sufficient for European travel. Other inoculations are required outside Europe. For these, check with the U.S. Public Health Service.

His musical talent and devotion to the violin and his dignified respect for observing Christmas as opposed to boisterousness of his neighbors.

The next meeting will be Oct. 3rd at the Dunlap Motor Inn with Mrs. Samuel Darley as hostess.

Beauty Care Today

By MID

Today lots of exotic things are being done with colored eye shadows. They can be applied in layers. This "layered look" can be very effective if done properly.

What are some color combinations you can use? Brush on blue cake shadow from center lid to brow. Now use pink shadow under the blue center patch. Extend the pink to eye corners. Dot the bottom lid and line the upper lid with blue liner.

Try this look. Put yellow just under the brow. Apply green cream shadow where the lid creases. Use emerald powder shadow on the lid itself. Use an olive liquid eye liner.

Suggestion: Don't forget to apply these shadow combinations LIGHTLY. They are to complement the eye, not draw attention away from it.

EVERYTHING COMES BELTED

This fall everything comes belted. That means suits, coats and dresses, even culottes and short pants suits. This does not mean that all belts must hit the waist. If you haven't succeeded in getting your waistline down to where you want it, try the empire belt. Cut high, it sits under the bosom, letting the dress fall free and easy over the middle.

When washing your children's hair, rinse with a half-and-half water and vinegar solution to get all the soap out.

Soph Aids Florida Past Illini, 14-0

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida unveiled flashy sophomore Jack Eckdahl as a successor to All-American Steve Spurrier Saturday and the youngster sparked the Gators to a 14-0 victory over Big Ten darkhorse Illinois in the football opener for both teams.

Eckdahl cranked up the Florida offense in the second half after senior Harmon Wages failed to get a score in the first two quarters.

Eckdahl's running was even more effective than his passing, gaining 74 yards on 12 runs while completing three of 10 passes for 26 yards.

The Gators traveled 76 yards to their first touchdown, helped along by a 32-yard pass interference penalty. Larry Smith smashed two yards for the score.

Two minutes later after Ron Bess fumbled a punt at the Illinois 16, Eckdahl raced around left end for a touchdown.

Sophomore Dave Jackson made the only Illinois gain that brought gasps from the opening day record crowd of 57,391.

Each team tried a field goal in the first half. Dan McKissic's 39-yard attempt for Illinois was wide while Wayne Barfield's try from 40 yards for Florida was partially blocked.

Illini Stars Of Past To Return

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Former all-time great football players who led the University of Illinois to victories over the University of Pittsburgh when the two teams last met in the 1940's will be in the stands for Illinois Loyalty Day, Saturday, Sept. 30, when the Illini meet the Panthers in the 1967 home opener at Memorial Stadium.

The Illini and Pitt met five times between 1943 and 1947 and Illinois won all five contests. Two of those victories were due in a large part to the play of Buddy Young who scored two touchdowns in both the 1944 and the 1946 games. Dike Eddleman scored twice in the 1947 contest, and Bill Butkovich had two in 1945.

All three plan to be on hand for the Loyalty Day opener which marks the sixth meeting between Illinois and Pittsb-burgh. The first game between the two schools in 1943 in Memorial Stadium saw the Illini take a 33-25 victory as Eddie McGovern and Eddie Bray each scored twice for Illinois.

Again it was Illinois speed that made the difference in '44 at Pittsburgh. Don Greenwood went 80 yards on a kickoff return as the Illini scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. But that was not the game's most spectacular play.

In the second period a 5-5, 160-pound freshman from Chicago named Claude "Buddy" Young took a handoff around right end, danced a few steps down the sidelines, then cut back in route to a 92-yard touchdown.

Buddy, who scored 13 times and earned All American honors that year, scored again in the third period on a 13-yard dash after Les Bingham recovered a Pitt fumble deep in Panther territory.

Young, recognized as one of the game's greatest speedsters, showed he could do other things as well. Twice on defense he prevented touchdowns by making clean tackles when he was the last Illini between Pitt runners and the goal line. And

Dr. Fred Hovde, president of Purdue University, called signals at Minnesota as tailback in the same backfield with Bronko Nagurski and thinks the experience helped get him a Rhodes scholarship. Dr. Hovde, who will receive the Football Hall of Fame's Gold Medal, says, "One of the criteria stipulated in Rhodes' will was the recipient have 'an interest in and fondness for manly outdoor sport.' . . . And college football certainly is a manly outdoor sport."

Right up until the start of the NFL season, the New York Giants were trying to peddle Francis Peay, their high-priced sophomore tackle, who's supposed to have all the ability to push the pros around — if somebody could light a fire under him.

Not many men can dominate a football field like Jerry Levas of Southern Methodist did in the Mustangs' opener against Texas A&M. The first Negro ever granted a Southwest Conference athletic scholarship, he's out of the same Beaumont, Tex., area that produced Bubba Smith of Michigan State and the Colts, Mel Farr of UCLA and the Lions, brother Miller Farr of Wichita State and the Oilers. He's the most exciting talent to show up in an SMU uniform since Doak Walker a generation ago . . .

In the third period he threw a key block on the Panther safety man as Paul Patterson raced 62-yards for a score.

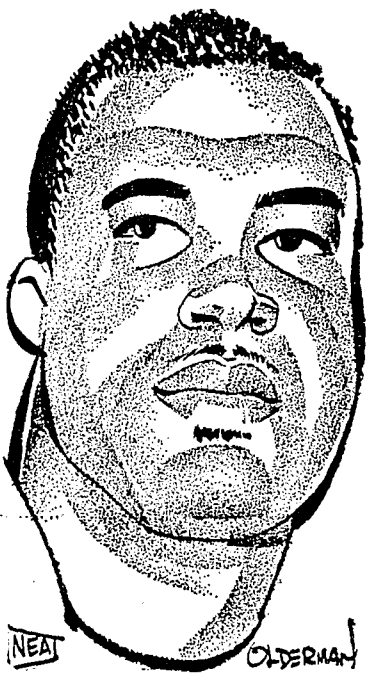

A tough little freshman end from Joliet by the name of Jim Valek made his playing debut for the Illini in the 1945 contest.

Young was in the service, but the Illini again powered their way past Pitt, 23-6, at Memorial Stadium. Fullback Bill Butkovich plunged for two touchdowns and Bray raced 40-yards for the third. Bingham blocked a Pitt punt for a safety.

Young made a successful post-war debut in 1946 as the Illini opened at Pittsburgh. Buddy raced 46-yards for a touchdown before the game was two minutes old and scored again in the third period on a 13-yard scamper. The '46 game marked the varsity debut for another well-known Illini, Dwight Eddleman, who intercepted a pass to halt a Pitt march in the third period.

The victory launched one of Illinois most successful seasons as the Illini went on to win the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl, 45-14, over UCLA.

It was Eddleman's show in 1947 as Illinois took a 14-0 victory at home. In the fourth period, Dike ran 25 yards for one touchdown after taking a lateral from quarterback Perry Moss and minutes later scored again on a 40-yard punt return.

Maybe Howard Cosell ought to get off his kick of knocking sports writers for lack of objectivity and reportorial honesty after the botched - up Bonavena - Mildenberg bombast. Seems every time Howard or Angelo Dundee, helping him on the telecast, ventured an opinion, the fighters reacted the opposite way . . .

The Baltimore Colts have a sure way of getting rid of hanger-on players who persist in asking for tryouts. They tell them the first test is to outrun the personnel chief who's responsible for rounding up new talent for the Colts — Upton Bell, son of the late NFL commissioner. Of course, they don't tell 'em that Uppie also used to be a sprint star in Philadelphia high school circles who was barely nosed out in the city 100-yard dash finals by Herb Adderley, now an All-Pro defensive back with the Green Bay Packers . . .

The post pattern in football denotes a pass-receiving route in which the receiver, generally split wide, cuts in toward the middle of the field for the goal post. The man who runs it best is Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns . . .

No athlete has a more dangerous avocation than Jim Marshall, the defensive end of the Minnesota Vikings. Jim has been a sky diver for the past four years — he has also tried scuba diving and hunted for treasure. "When you're out there floating," says Jim, "it's as close to being free as man will ever be. You're completely unattached from earth. Just you and the air. It's just great. . . . But I don't jump during the season — I could get a sprained ankle, you know."

Marshall draws the line on one bit of trippery. He no longer tosses grapes in the air and catches them with his mouth. He did it one day and grape lodged in his throat.

Between you'n'me, quarterbacks apparently never get too old to call the shots. Even if they've not in uniform. Among the old signal - callers actively employed to describe the pro action on television are Eddie LeBaron, Norm Van Brocklin in the NFL, Paul Christman and George Ratterman in the AFL, and Warren Lahr, who does the Browns, reminds one and all that though he played most of his career as a defensive back, he originally made the Browns as a third-string quarterback.

Minnesota Holds Slim Lead Despite Defeat

Robby Lifts Orioles Past Boston, 7-5

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson, who had made a costly error earlier, smashed a two-run homer in the eighth inning and the Baltimore Orioles jolted Boston's pennant-hungry Red Sox 7-5 Saturday night.

The defeat dropped the Red Sox into third place in the torrid American League race, one-half game back of Minnesota which lost to New York and one percentage point behind second place Detroit, which was idle Saturday.

Fourth place Chicago, which beat Cleveland, is one game behind as the season swings into its final week.

The Red Sox wiped out a 4-0 Baltimore lead built on early homers by Curt Blefary and Frank Robinson. Blefary's 22nd homer came in the first inning and Frank Robinson's 30th came in Baltimore's three-run third.

The Red Sox scored a run in the fourth when Carl Yastrzemski beat out an infield hit, raced to third on George Scott's double and came in on a ground ball.

Jim Weaver limited the A's to six hits in six innings and won his third game. Minnie Rojas finished up, allowing a run on three singles in the eighth.

Seaver Blanks Houston, 1-0, On Three Hits

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Seaver pitched a three-hitter and Jerry Buchek drove in the game's only run in the ninth inning as the New York Mets edged Houston 1-0 Saturday night.

Seaver struck out nine and retired nine straight batters but was locked in a scoreless duel until the Mets came to bat in the bottom of the ninth.

Bob Johnson doubled and after Ed Kranepool was purposely passed, Ron Swoboda beat out a bunt, loading the bases. Then Buchek stroked a long hit to left, scoring the run.

It was Seaver's 16th victory. Reliever Dave Eilers, who worked four scoreless innings until the ninth, was the loser.

With one out in the first, Don Buford beat out a hit to second and went to third on Pete Ward's double. Both runners scored on Ken Boyer's double down the right field line.

The Spartans gave the home crowd of 75,833 only one chance to cheer — when sophomore Woodall, who came back after being injured last week, hit Lamar Thomas bolted 48 yards touchdown passes to end Paul down the sideline for Michigan Hebert on a 77-yard play and State's only touchdown.

Griese Faces Much Tougher Obstacle Today

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
Rookie quarterback Bob Griese, who passed his first major American Football League test with flying colors last weekend, faces a much tougher obstacle Sunday when he leads the Miami Dolphins against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Griese, the standout from Purdue, came off the bench last Sunday when John Stofa broke his ankle and completed 12 of 19 passes for 193 yards in leading the Dolphins to a 35-21 season opening victory over Denver.

But in the defending championship, he will face a much more experienced and cohesive defense than the one the young Broncos threw at him.

The Chiefs, 1-0, also figure to present Miami's defense with many more problems than Denver did. Veteran Len Dawson hit on 15 straight passes and 17 for 19 and Mike Garrett caught six passes and rushed for 80 yards as the Chiefs beat Houston 25-20 in their season opener two weeks ago.

In other AFL games Sunday, Boston, 0-3, is at Buffalo, 1-1; the New York Jets, 0-1, play at Denver, 1-2; and Houston, 1-1, is at San Diego, 1-0. Oakland does not play.

Boston will be away from home for the fourth straight weekend but will be meeting an Eastern Division team for the first time. If last year's results mean anything, the game might be a good omen for the struggling Patriots, who beat defending Eastern champion Buffalo twice last year.

The Jets, who have had a week off since losing 20-17 to Buffalo after having led the Bills 17-0, figure to penetrate Denver's porous defense — 98 points in the last two games — with the passing of Joe Namath.

Denver hopes to get another good showing from fullback Bo Hickey, who was unveiled against Miami and gained 42 yards in six carries and scored two TDs. The game will complete the television doubleheader.

San Diego's biggest problem against Houston might be the momentum the Oilers picked up with their victory against Buffalo. It snapped a regular season losing streak of nine games — eight last season.

Houston's main problem will be stopping the passing of John Hadl to flanker back Lance Alworth and tight end Willie Frazer.

In the National Football League Sunday, Baltimore plays Philadelphia, New York is at Dallas, Chicago goes to Green Bay, Cleveland meets Detroit, St. Louis takes on Pittsburgh, Atlanta plays San Francisco and Washington journeys to New Orleans.

Jones And Beban Spark UCLA To Easy 40-8 Romp

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Greg Jones hammered out 160 yards as UCLA, repeatedly given good field position by its swift defenders, relied on a savage ground game to crush outclassed Pitt 40-8 Saturday.

The sixth-ranked Bruins didn't have to drive more than 55 yards for a touchdown while piling up a 30-0 lead before Pitt crossed midfield for the first time in the third quarter.

Jones, a sophomore who replaced All-America Mel Farr, made the most impressive debut by any UCLA back in history last week, gaining 135 yards against Tennessee. His yardage against the Panthers came on 19 carries, including a 43-yard touchdown sprint.

Quarterback Gary Beban climaxed two drives by running over himself for scores before retiring with a 240 lead and nine minutes left in the third quarter. Beban came back into the game in the final three minutes after substitute quarterback Bill Bolden was injured.

The Bruins' first touchdown came on a 47-yard, seven-play drive on which Beban and Jones alternated carries after Vic Lepisto recovered a fumble by Pitt quarterback Frank Gus-line. Beban scored from the nine.

Just before the half, Beban took the Bruins 47 yards in 11 plays and scored from the 10. UCLA 7 10 13 10-40 Pitt 0 0 0 0-8

Alabama has won the most Southeastern Conference football titles. The Crimson Tide won six times and tied for the crown twice.

OUT AT HOME: Lincoln Junior College runner Fox Baughman slides into home too late as MacMurray catcher Lonnie Fulte applies out. Umpire is Bill Gross. Lincoln handed MacMurray a pair of defeats, 8-1 and 5-2, as Mac coach Rich Jones used only newcomers, freshmen, transfers and one sophomore. Mac will close its four-game fall baseball slate Oct. 4 with a doubleheader at Lincoln. The team will take on MacMurray's varsity team in an intrasquad tilt this afternoon.

McCovey's Slam Carries Giants To 8-4 Decision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Willie McCovey walloped a two-out grand slam home run keying a seven-run eighth inning that carried San Francisco to an 8-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

The Giants were trailing 4-1 going into the bottom of the eighth but Tom Haller walked and Ollie Brown beat out an infield hit. Singles by Jack Hitt and Ty Cline produced two runs and then, with two out and the bases loaded, McCovey unloaded against reliever Juan Pizarro.

Haller doubled home Jim Hart with another run before the Giants were finally retired.

The grand slam was McCovey's second this season and the sixth of his career.

Notre Dame Rips California, 41-8

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—

After quarterback Terry Hanratty finally got warmed up, he triggered top-ranked Notre Dame to a 41-8 trouncing of California's Bears in the fighting Irish football opener Saturday.

The Irish were held to a 7-0 first quarter margin as Hanratty failed to click with his famed battery-mate Jim Seymour, but the star passer got Notre Dame rolling with a 17-point second quarter and the rout was on.

Hanratty flipped two touchdown passes, a 14-yarder to Rocky Bleier and a 9-yarder to Seymour, and scored himself on a 12-yard keeper before he left in favor of Coley O'Brien late in the third quarter with Notre Dame ahead 31-0. California's game Bears, who opened last week with a 21-13 victory over Oregon, scored with 2:49 left on a one-yard smash by Troy Cox climaxing a 49-yard drive in 11 plays.

As expected, Notre Dame's running game was below last season's form. Hanratty was the leading Irish rusher with 46 yards on seven keeper carries. Dushney with 40 on 10 tries.

California was led in rushing by halfback Paul Williams with 49 yards on 15 hauls and Randy Humphries with 45 on 14.

Shannon's Error Nips Cardinals 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mike

Shannon's seventh inning throwing error allowed the winning run to score as the Atlanta Braves shaded National League champion St. Louis 2-1 Saturday.

Bob Gibson, 13-7, who allowed just three hits and struck out 10 in eight innings, was tagged with the loss.

Henry Aaron doubled Gary Geiger home with the tying run in the seventh and when Shannon threw away Tito Francona's ground ball, Aaron scored from second.

The Cards had nicked Pat Jarvis, 15-9, for a run in the second when Tim McCarver was hit by a pitched ball, moved to second on a wild pitch and scored on Julian Javier's single.

Favorite Jack Nicklaus, exploding six birdies in the space of nine holes, and two-time Open champion Bill Casper, steady as par itself, remained in the thick of competition, three strokes off the pace, while Arnold Palmer, the people's choice, dropped five strokes back with what he called not a very good round.

Collins, the 6-4, 205-pound ex-Marine from Purchase, N.Y., who was driven off the tour three years ago by a series of back and shoulder ailments, sank a 10-foot birdie putt to go seven strokes under par for three rounds with a score of 209.

Player, rifling his irons with such accuracy that the longest of his five birdie putts was 12 feet, shot a 69 for 211.

Nicklaus and Casper were tied at 212 with Charles Coody, a 30-year-old Texan who has won one tour victory in a four-year professional career, and the 43-year-old Art Wall Jr., a former Masters champion.

Nicklaus, who said he didn't get started until the sixth hole, shot a 69 while Casper had a one-under 71. Coody, with three birdies in a space of four holes starting at the 13th, shot a 69 while Wall knocked in a 40-foot putt on the final hole for a birdie and a two-under-par 70.

After a scoreless first half Dennis Evans broke off tackle for a 50-yard score in the third stanza and Dale Simpson returned an intercepted pass 40 yards to paydirt. Mark Loudermille and Evans ran the two extra points.

Winchester scored on a 43-yard pass play with 2:22 left in the game.

JHS is now 1-1, playing their next game at Lincoln next Saturday.

Captain's Gig Sweeps Futurity

NEW YORK (AP) — Cap-

tain's Gig, a newcomer to the 2-year-old title competition, hung up a track record for Aqueduct Saturday as he easily defeated favored Vitriolic and won the $146,220 Futurity.

Carrying the blue and white blocked silks of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable, Captain's Gig pulled away in the closing yards for a three-length decision over Vitriolic from the barns of Ogden Phipps.

It was another three-quarters of a length back to Lou Wolfson's Exclusive Native.

With Bill Shoemaker liberally applying the whip in the stretch run, Captain's Gig covered the 6 1/2 furlongs in 1:15 4-5, clipping one-fifth second off the track standard as he picked up a purse of $90,493.

The victory was Captain's Gig's third in four starts since making his debut in mid-August at Saratoga.

It also was a profitable ride for Shoemaker who got the mount when Manuel Ycaza, regular rider for Cain Hoy, was suspended earlier in the week.

Shoemaker's payoff for the speedy trip was slightly more than $9,000.

Vitriolic, the odds-on choice off three straight victories, trailed during the early part of the journey and staged his usual stretch drive, but there wasn't enough ground as Captain's Gig, a son of Turn To Make Sail turned on the power in the final one-sixteenth of a mile.

As the co-second choice of the crowd of 47,636, Captain's Gig paid $8.80, $3.20 and $2.10. Vitriolic, ridden by Braulio Baeza, paid $2.20 and $2.10 while a $2 show ticket on Exclusive Native, with Angel Cordero Jr. bidding for his fourth winner of the day was worth $2.10.

Au Secours finished fourth, Out of the Way fifth and Dignitas sixth. Count Flip and Family Fun were scratched.

Stanky: A Study In Quick Changes

Manager Eddie Stanky of the amazing Chicago White Sox is a little guy who swings a big stick on everybody but his own players.

Stanky, 50, maneuvered and cajoled a club he inherited last year from Al Lopez from a fourth-place American League finish into an astounding pennant contender.

One of the most controversial players in National League history, Stanky is a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde pilot seeking his first pennant in a disjointed six-season big league managerial career.

Stanky, who played on three pennant-winning clubs, has cool patience with his feeble-hitting, pitching-strong Sox.

But for sports writers, near and far, he is a sharp-tongued, explosive critic of what he regards unwarranted disdain and ridicule of his remarkably unsinkable club.

Humphrey In Fire Too
Even Vice President Hubert Humphrey got into the line of Stanky's dressing room fire. Stanky apologized for inadvertently barring Humphrey from the Sox dressing at the Minnesota Twins stadium.

But, in a later tirade against sports writers' apathy which he said continued against his plucky Sox, Stanky tossed Humphrey's name into his outburst.

"What do I need with Humphrey," snapped Stanky. "He can't hit."

"They call us the dullest club in baseball," he exploded at the time. "But they don't write about the guts and determination of my bunch of 228 hitters who don't know how to lose."

Strangely, the White Sox, who led the American League at one time from June 11 to Aug. 13, don't reflect the fiery attitude of the one-time second baseman, whose previous managerial stint was with the St. Louis Cardinals from 1952 through 1954.

Stanky even calls his inner defense "my mortuary infield," adding: "My guys don't even say hello to each other, but I can't complain, they get the job done."

Stanky Philosophy
Perhaps Stanky's secret in handling a team that clawed to one-run victories in 39 games so far this season is contained in his managerial philosophy.

"A baseball team is like a family," he explains. "It must be given discipline, understanding and love—yes, love, which is a commodity that can be measured in many different ways."

Stanky, off the field, is a devoted father of six. He doesn't smoke, rarely sips a drink and never tells an off-color story. Yet he is known as "The Brat."

Although Stanky had an 11-season major league batting average of .268 with the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Braves and Cardinals, he once was described this way by the late Branch Rickey:

"He can't hit, he can't field, he can't run and he can't throw. All he can do is beat you."

Stanky seems to have implanted that image in most of his regulars, who scratch and claw for every advantage behind a splendid array of pitchers, skillfully manipulated.

"I expect my players to respect my theories. I wasn't blessed with a sense of humor, so I don't laugh much. I wish I could. I don't wield a big stick. I'm not a tough guy as some people seem to think. I don't hide behind a cloak of toughness."

TAYLORVILLE — Jacksonville four times turned Taylorville mistakes into quick scores and romped to an impressive 38-0 shutout victory over Taylorville, here Friday evening, despite having several key players hampered by injuries.

The Crimsons, 19-0 losers in last week's opener at Eisenhower, recovered and then some, and did it quickly. JHS rolled up a 20-0 advantage in the opening ten minutes and from there the defense kept Taylorville from ever threatening.

Aiding the Crimson effort, with the defense setting up all the breaks, were two Taylorville fumbles, a pair of intercepted passes and three blocked punts. Four of the breaks were turned into quick scoring strikes.

The Crimson defense held Taylorville to only 17 net rushing yards and 72 passing yards. Meanwhile, JHS rolled up 131 ground yards, paced by junior halfback Rod Simonds, and

Rockets Roll To Easy 60-6 Win For 2nd

CAMP POINT — Routt quarterbacks Lloyd Krumlauf and Ed Tighe found easy going in open airways Friday afternoon at Camp Point, as they led the Rockets to a 60-6 victory over the Camp Point Eagles.

Eight Rocket gridders scored at will on plunges, sprints and catches against the loose Camp Point defense. Coach Fred Curtis was able to substitute freely throughout the game. Routt's defense held Camp Point until the fourth quarter when they scored on a pass play.

The Rockets scored in the first play of the game after the kickoff that went to fullback Paul Lambert. Lambert ran 40 yards to pick up the six points that were followed by backfielder Dan Welsh's point-after-touchdown.

In the second series of Routt plays, Welsh scored again on a three-yard plunge. A pass from Lloyd Krumlauf to left end John Costa added another point.

Lambert ran off tackle for a five-yard scoring play. A Krumlauf to Costa combination was good for the conversion.

Dan Craddock ran 28 yards off-tackle for the next scoring play. Second string quarterback Ed Tighe passed to Don Fuchs to give Routt their final first quarter score. At the end of the quarter, Routt led the Eagles 28-0.

Krumlauf put six more points on the board on a 65-yard dash. Dan Welsh scored a conversion. Don Fuchs edged his way into the end zone from the Camp Point 28-yard line.

Twins Rip Yankees 8-2 To Stay Hot

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota battered old nemesis Mel Stottlemyre for 10 hits and seven runs in six innings, then rode the seven hit pitching of Jim Kaat to a 8-2 victory over the New York Yankees Friday.

The Red Sox dropped to second, one-half game back. Detroit, which swept two games from Washington, advanced to third, one game behind the Twins. The Chicago White Sox, beaten by Cleveland, fell to fourth, two games from the top.

Cesar Tovar and Zoilo Versalles led the Twins 13-hit assault on Stottlemyre and Joe Verbanic.

Tovar hit solo home runs in the fifth and eighth innings, giving him six for the season, and added a single. Versalles stroked his sixth homer with the bases empty in the sixth and added a double and single.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, thrashed 10-0 by Baltimore in the first game, stormed back for a 10-3 second game victory in Friday's twin-night doubleheader and dropped one-half game off the pace in the torrid American League pennant race.

The Orioles, who swept a three-game series from Boston last weekend, coasted to victory in Friday's first game behind the five-hit pitching of rookie Jim Hardin.

Brooks Robinson, Dave Johnson and Larry Haney knocked in three runs apiece for the fall 1966 World Series Champions, who clinched the pennant a year ago Friday.

Hardin, who pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the third and twice left two runners stranded, struck out seven as he brought his record to 8-2.

The Orioles took a 2-0 lead in the third inning of the nightcap before the Red Sox exploded for five runs in the fourth — aided by three Baltimore errors.

Tough Defense, PAT Net 7-6 Tiger Win

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

ISD made a 15-yard scoring pass and an extra point run by Terry Storey stand up by stopping Calhoun four times in Tiger territory in the second half and ran its record to 2-0 with a narrow 7-6 margin over the Warriors, on the ISD field Friday afternoon.

The winners were stopped almost cold by a strong Calhoun defense, but clicked on a 15-yard toss from sophomore quarterback Ron Sipek to end Bill Fox just before intermission and relied on a tough defense from there on in.

The brilliant Tiger defense was led by Fox and linebackers Steve Baker and Jesse Joyner, as ISD time and again took advantage of Calhoun mistakes that included four lost fumbles, two pass interceptions and a punt that never got off.

ISD was held to only 34 yards net rushing and 25 through the air, and managed only four first downs, all on penalties. Calhoun aging 79 rushing yards and a minus six passing. Calhoun fared only slightly better, mankicked up seven first downs, all in the second half.

Neither team was able to move in the first half at all. Both clubs had a minus two yards rushing at the half, and only three first downs were recorded, all on penalties by ISD.

Calhoun got the biggest break of the first half as the Warrior rush prevented an ISD punt from getting away, and the visitors took over on the hosts' 20. However, Wally Harnasch picked up the first of four Calhoun fumbles on the next play.

Storey Sets Up Score
Senior end Storey returned a Calhoun punt from the ISD 40 to the visitors' 21 to set up the Tigers' only score of the day. A 15-yard walkoff against Calhoun gave ISD the ball at the 11 before two running plays lost four yards.

On a third down call Sipek found Fox at the deep end of the end zone and the senior end jumped between two defenders to snare the pass. Storey busted over center for the game-deciding extra point with only 1:30 to play in the half.

ISD had another chance to score in the first half when the ball was centered over the Calhoun punter's head and was downed on the Warriors' 16. A 15-yard penalty moved the ball back to the 36 as the half ended.

Muff Chances
Calhoun's offense began clicking in the third quarter, but a fumble recovery by Fox and an interception by Sipek killed two threats and two 15-yard assessments nullified another after a blocked punt gave the Warriors the ball on the ISD 20.

The visitors got their only score of the afternoon early in the fourth by grinding from their own 43, aided by 20 yards in penalties on ISD.

Runners Jerry Crader, Ken Matthews and Delbert Vetter alternated in punching out short gains that moved the ball steadily down to the three from where Crader lunged over right guard. Baker almost single-handedly stopped Crader's line plunge for the point after.

Calhoun started another march late in the game, moving from their own 28 to the ISD 46 Frank Bazos intercepted and the winners ran the clock out from there.

Calhoun is now 0-2.

Rushville Races To 32-18 Margin Over Hornets

MT. STERLING — Despite Brown County's ability to run 77 offensive plays and to gain 506 yards, the Rushville Rockets picked up their second Midwest Conference win Friday night, tripping them 32-18.

The Brown County Hornets made four attempts at scoring which didn't materialize, with first down each time within Mt. Sterling's 15-yard line. The Hornets were stopped on penalties or broken plays.

Rushville scoring went with fullback Bob Greer, halfback Mike Blaiesinger and quarterback Rick Patterson.

Greer made a first quarter touchdown on a handoff from Patterson. He ran around end to score.

Billy Just Had To Be On Mets

Written for NEA
By MARTY RALBOVSKY
NEW YORK — It figures Billy Connors would wind up a New York Met. He's right at home in the land of the unusual happenings.

Take the year 1962. The town is Palatka, Fla., population 7,000, home of the Palatka Cubs of the Class A Florida State League.

Billy Connors played every position on the team that year. This particular night it was centerfield.

Someone hit a long fly ball. Billy Connors went back ... and back ... and back. He stepped on something strange, and almost lost his footing.

The fly ball kept going, but Billy Connors heeled in the opposite direction right into the dugout.

His manager and teammates had bewildered looks on their faces. Then Billy Connors explained.

He had stepped on a rattlesnake.

In 1966, on the a hot afternoon in Caracas, Venezuela, Billy decided to take a quick nap before the winter league game that night. He stretched out on his bed in the hotel room when suddenly he heard a disturbance in the streets.

He looked out the window, saw soldiers shooting and pedestrians fleeing for cover. A military uprising? Billy Connors pulled out his binoculars, stuck his head out the window and calmly watched the action.

Minutes later he heard footsteps in the hall. Then a half-dozen soldiers came flying through what was left of the door to his room. The soldiers placed young Mr. Connors against the wall, frisked him and started leading him away at gunpoint.

An English-speaking hotel manager came to his rescue, explained to the soldiers he was nothing more than an innocent American ballplayer. Reluctantly, they let him go.

The soldiers, seeing Billy with the binoculars, thought he was a spy—or a member of the opposition.

Lots of other strange things have happened to the 26-year-old right-hander.

Like the time in Indianapolis when the hotel in which he was staying burned down. Naturally, he lost all his belongings.

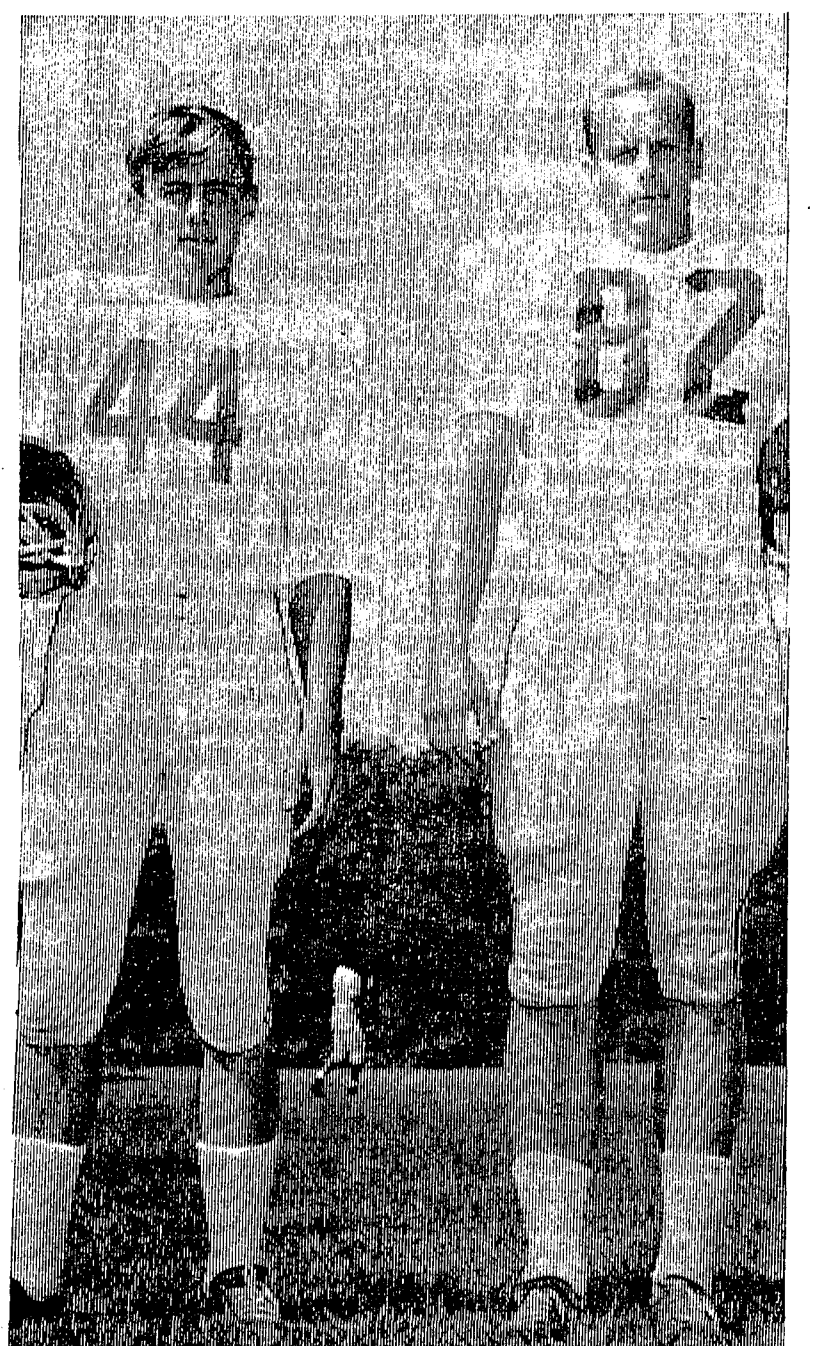

Or the two-month stint in the Cubs bullpen last season. He lost his only decision.

Or the last four years in the minor leagues. Each of his teams finished in last place.

One bright moment, however, came in 1961 when the Cubs gave Billy $40,000 to sign.

Another—if you can call it that—came when the Mets bought him in a $20,000 waiver and Jaipur—are stallions at deal. "I'm glad it happened," Billy says.

Move over, Phil Linz.

CANTON, MO. — Two Jacksonville, area products are members of the football team at Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo. ### BANK ACCOUNTS PLACE FOR MONEY

URBANA — Safety and convenience constitute the two principal reasons for keeping money in a bank instead of in a desk drawer, pocketbook or cookie jar.

Also, checking accounts provide an accurate record of expenditures. This can save tax dollars by ensuring that legitimate deductions are not forgotten.

Legally the bank in which you keep an account becomes the agent and custodian of trustee for you; it promises to keep your money safely, account for it and pay it out when you order it to do so.

A check is regarded as such an order, and the bank must pay out money from a checking account on which a check is properly drawn—except in these instances:

1. Banks are not required to honor a check when sufficient funds are not on deposit.

2. A check that requires an endorsement cannot be paid by the bank until properly endorsed.

3. A forged check cannot be honored by the depositor's bank. If the bank pays out money on such a check, depositors may receive a refund upon proof of forgery provided the depositor discovers and reports the forgery to the bank within one year.

Since bank failures of depression years, Federal Deposit Insurance has been extended to protect depositors' accounts in all national banks and in other banks that apply for the insurance and meet standards acceptable to FDIC.

Protection is now provided on amounts up to $15,000.

Banks may make reasonable service charges based on number of checks written and current balance in an account.

Two or more persons may establish a joint bank account with a right of survivorship in each person. Such an account then goes immediately to the living joint depositor or depositors when one of them dies.

The account may be frozen for a week or two while the executor inventories the estate, makes a report to Springfield and receives a release of the account. This procedure is necessary because death-tax laws require all property be inventoried.

The law makes special provision for joint accounts between husband and wife, however. The surviving spouse may withdraw up to one-half of the balance on deposit in the joint account at the time of the other spouse's death.

Ordinary checking accounts do not draw interest, but savings accounts do. Therefore a checking account need have only the deposits necessary to cover current expenditures, plus some additional amount for unexpected items of expense.

Invest excess income in a savings account or elsewhere where it will earn interest or dividends.

PORK IS PERFECT.

That's what some 70 housewives declared all day Friday as they distributed samples of roasted Boston rolled shoulder in 10 Jacksonville food stores.

They were members of the Farm Bureau Women's committee and of Morgan County Pork Producers' association.

Evidently Russell Battefeld of Mercedosa agreed Bill's Star market on West State street. On duty at the time were Mrs. Virgil Smith of Pork Producers and Mrs. Russel Heaton and Mrs. Cary Strang, both of Murrayville, as he was shopping in Kroger's on West College ave.

And Jerry Brogdon, 2 1/2, smiled after tasting a portion of the roast while riding a grocery buggy pushed by his mother, Mrs. Cecil Brogdon, Jr., route 1, (left) through

4-H Horse Clubs Grow By 'Leaps And Bounds'

It looks as though the horse is up-staging the automobile and boat in the American family recreation scene. While no accurate count is available, the number of pleasure horses from Maine to California has been estimated from 5 to 7 million.

The last U.S. horse census made in 1959 showed nearly 3 million horses and mules, mostly on farms. The greatest increase today is around the major population centers of the U.S.

The 4-H Clubs have been one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the pleasure horse. Recent horse shows and fairs have featured 4-H owners and riders who have claimed their share of honors and trophies.

The national 4-H Horse program last year headed the list for enrollment increase in 32-major 4-H award programs supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. The horse program gained more than 19,000 new members bringing the 1966 total to 165,000. Current participation is expected to bring the 1967 enrollment to well over 180,000.

The young 4-H equestrians learn much more than to mount and ride. They learn to recognize horse color and markings; how to judge horses; to select proper tack and equipment and keep it in good condition. Horse science projects cover anatomy, nutrition, disease and reproduction. Members are coached in show ring performance and responsibility for the horse.

County extension agents, local club leaders, veterinarians, professional horse handlers and animal scientists work with the youngsters.

The 4-H Horse program is sponsored nationally by Merck & Co., Inc., of Rahway, N. J. Projects are judged annually for awards. Tops in the county receive the gold-filled 4-H Horse medal; best in state wins an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving.

From the 50 state winners and one from Puerto Rico, six national $500 scholarship winners will be selected. Last year a Puerto Rican boy won a scholarship. The five other recipients were from Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Texas. They were all girls.

BRIMFUL and running over By Jim Brim

The weather is interesting. We can talk about it but can't do anything to really change it, just change its effect on man.

Weather facts from U. of I. Bulletin No. 532: Climate of Illinois, Information for Jacksonville —

Average date of last killing frost in spring — April 23.

Latest date of last killing frost in spring — May 25.

Average date of first killing frost in fall — Oct. 14.

Earliest date of first killing frost in fall — Sept. 16.

Average length of frost-free period in days — 174.

When will it frost this fall? Average September rainfall — 3.35 inches.

Right now it seems we've had quite a lot of rain this month. It started out dry, but it isn't any more.

Now you should . . .

Write to the men in Vietnam, (and elsewhere).

Eat watermelon.

Keep livestock beds dry.

Repair frayed electrical cords.

Read the Bible.

Watch the soybeans.

Eat according to your activity.

Listen to the crickets, (chlordane will kill them).

Watch leaves fall.

Every family needs something inside the house they can watch and care for during the winter.

Tropical fish are excellent for this. They are easy to care for — not too expensive to feed and keep. Children and adults enjoy these live-bearing fish very much. Guppies and others will produce many little ones, but they may eat them.

There are, of course, many other interesting indoor pets that make life more interesting, too. Pets such as dogs, cats, rabbits, hamsters, white mice, gerbils — the pet shop can give a lot of help in pet selection and care.

You can tell when you are getting old — your feet hurt before you get out of bed.

Livestock Co-Op To Hold Caucus Here Oct. 17

Interstate Producers Livestock association has scheduled 11 district caucus meetings in Illinois and Iowa during October and November. Patrons and stockholders in the cooperative will nominate directors for 1968.

The caucus for this district will be held Tuesday, Oct. 17, at the Morgan County Farm Bureau. The current director is Philip Snell of Auburn.

IPLA is an affiliate of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation with headquarters at the Chicago Union Stock Yards.

Any livestock producer who has bought or sold animals through IPLA during the past two years is eligible to make nominations and vote. Nominees from the caucus will be placed on the ballot for election at the association's annual meeting during the IAA annual meeting in Chicago in November.

Farmers attending the meetings will hear reports by Gray Daly, general manager, and Elmer White, director of information, on marketing programs conducted by IPLA during 1967.

The cooperative's hog marketing contract program with Krey Packing company of St. Louis, the feeder cattle program being developed in Southern Illinois, and a summary of general livestock marketing conditions will be reported at the meetings.

FFA Initiates 16 'Greenhands'

Sixteen freshmen vocational agriculture students were initiated into the Greenhand degree Thursday evening in ceremonies held at the Jacksonville high school vocational building.

To win this degree the member must be enrolled in vocational agriculture and recite the F.F.A. creed from memory.

The initiates were Ted Wise, Tom Gaines, Jerry Walker, Bill Long, Dennis Evans, Dennis Hammers, Michael Long, Billy McDaniel, Lee McKean, Bob Patterson, Gary Smock, Darrel Suttles, Roger Ward, Gordon White, Greg Stanberry and Jim Rowe.

4-H Club Activities

A hayride and wiener roast for members of the Lynnville Hustlers 4-H club was discussed during a recent club meeting held at the Lynnville Christian church.

Art Moss served as presiding officer. Participating in the program were Debby Wilson, Keith Short, Dan Scholfield, Kevin Coulas, Art Moss, Mark McNeely and Darrel Quigg.

The club's window display project was planned. Members of the display committee are Art Moss, Roger Heaton, Don Headen, and Steve Maurer.

The hayride-wiener roast will be held at the home of Albert Wilson at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12.

MANCHESTER — The Stitch and Stir 4-H club held a slumber party Friday night at the home of Becky McNece.

Attending were Kathy Hart, Kathy Virgin, Debbie Bridges, Debbie Reagor, Debbie Brickey, Debbie Wright, Jean Ann Collins, Peggy, Diana and Barbara Chute, Barbara Myers, Ella Jean Tribble, Pamela Duncan, Cheryl Smock, Sandy Sitton, Becky and Mickey McNece.

Grain drawings are a new hazard on the farm as large storage structures are erected to hold the dried grain. Last year 16 Illinois adults and children drowned in dried grain.

"We're not certain just what moisture level of grain fails to support a person so that he sinks into the grain so deeply that he suffocates, but we know that extremely dry grain increases the chances of grain drownings."

More Each Year Oxygen-free storage structures claim increased numbers of farmers each year as farmers fail to realize what "oxygen-free" means.

Many farmers enter this type of structure to check on the keeping quality of their crop and don't come out. Carbon dioxide won't keep a human alive. In an oxygen-free structure most of the air is carbon dioxide. Even leaving the door open while the person is in the structure won't supply enough oxygen so the farmer can safely inspect his crop.

Hogsett points out that fewer accidents happen during harvest when good weather prevails. When poorer weather sets in, a farmer starts to fight the weather and his crop and he gets more tired and more careless as he hurries to make up lost time.

To Inspect Soybean Test Plots Tuesday

Field meetings at the Morgan County soybean variety plots have been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 26. Extension adviser George Trull has extended an invitation to all soybean producers and all interested persons to attend.

Schedule and location of the field meetings will be:

1:30 p.m. - 3 p.m. — Merle Sayre farm, 7 miles north of Jacksonville, 1 mile east of Rt. 67.

4 p.m. - 6 p.m. — Jim Ransom farm, 1 mile west of Franklin.

There are eleven varieties in the Extension variety plots this year, including two new varieties, Hark and Amsoy, and the edible variety, Kanrich.

Varieties, weed control, insect control and soybean diseases will be discussed at the meetings.

A test to show the amount of butterfat in milk was invented in 1890 by Stephen Moulton Babcock, an agricultural chemist.

According to USDA estimates, soybean production last year totaled 931 million bushels. The amount used and exported appears to have been around 865 million bushels — give or take a few million. That left about 65 million bushels to be added to carryover stocks.

Carryover stocks on September 1 appear to have been around 95 million bushels — compared with only 30 million a year ago.

The 1967 soybean crop will total about 1 billion bushels, according to official estimates made on the basis of conditions as of September 1. Disappearance may be 900 to 925 million bushels, which would be 5 to 7 percent more than in the past year. These figures suggest that the addition to the carryover may be 75 to 100 million bushels. Such an addition would swell the total carryover next fall (September 1, 1968) to near (or above) 175 million bushels.

This figure is, of course, only a personal estimate. The actual carryover may be 25, even 50 million bushels more or less than we now expect. An exact forecast is not necessary. The important point is that the 1967 crop is going to be well above what will be used and exported.

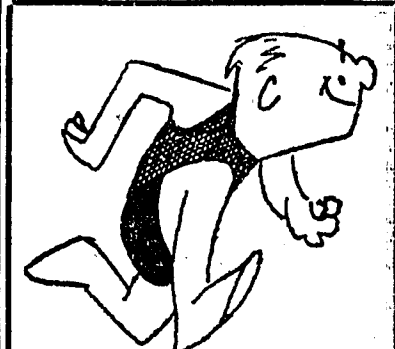

As it appears now, neither farmers nor dealers will want to hold such a large amount of soybeans. Thus, most of the carry-over next September will probably either be under price support loans or owned by the CCC. This could not happen, except by the price going below the support level so that growers put all unneeded beans under loans.

If farmers put enough beans under price support, a shortage of beans for crushing and export would develop. In that event, prices would rise above the support level. Prices would go up enough so that it would be profitable for farmers to sell beans that are under loan — and repay the loans, with interest.

As of early September, these are our views and expectations. But we know there will be changes and new developments each week. Watch for them.

AT THE END OF THE TRAIL

DANCE-HOUSE

A hundred years ago today the first "dance-house" at the end of the fabulous Chisholm cattle trail was opened in Abilene, Kans., where Joseph G. McCoy of Sangamon county had opened a market for Texas cattle on the new stretch of the Kansas Pacific railroad.

The first herd came in the first week of September. McCoy and John T. Alexander of Jacksonville bought the steers and paid for them in gold.

To some of the cowboys this was the first "hard money" they had seen in months. Many of them had served in the Confederate army, and as far back as 1863 had been paid off in Confederate money, which looked and felt like money, but had one serious drawback—you couldn't buy anything with it.

The going rate for trail cowboys at that time was $20 a month. And here they were in Abilene, with money in their pockets, and no place to spend it.

This was soon remedied. Men who didn't know anything about trailing cattle north knew how to separate the cowboy from his money. A rude shack was thrown up, a telegram was sent to Kansas City to ship in a few girls, a couple of planks of a pair of sawhorses for a bar, and a keg of "red-eye" whisky, and the first dance hall at the end of the trail was in business.

Music was no problem. The loneliness of the prairies developed musicians by the hundreds. Nearly every man learned to "comboodle" some instrument, mostly the fiddle, but also the banjo and guitar. And there were many good jug blowers and bone rattlers in the land. Nothing suited them better than to be invited to "square off and saw away" at any "jollification."

Later as the trail grew and prospered much more lavish establishments — some of them very ornate—were put up to lure cash out of the cowboy's pocket.

As the end of the trail moved westward, as the railroads extended and the eastern part of Kansas became thick with "sodbusters," these fancy joints were moved to Dodge City, where they prospered for years, and then to Wichita, where the trail business withered away.

This illustration was drawn in 1873 by Prof. Henry Worrall of Topeka.

Here is McCoy's description of how the cowboy spent some of his leisure hours:

When the herd is sold and delivered to the purchaser, a day of rejoicing to the cowboy has come, for then he can go free and have a jolly time; and a jolly time they have.

Straightway after settling with their employers the barber shop is visited, and three to six months' growth of hair is shorn off, the long-grown, sunburnt beard "set" in due shape, and properly blacked; next a clothing store of the Israelitish style is "gone through" and the cowboy emerges a new man, in outward appearance.

Then for fun and frolic. The bar-room, the theatre, the gambling room, the bawdy house, the dance house, each and all come in for their full share of attention.

Few more wild, reckless scenes of abandoned debauchery can be seen on the civilized earth, than a dance house in full blast. To say they dance wildly, or in an abandoned manner, is putting it mild. Their manner of practicing the terpsichorean art would put the French "Can-Can" to shame.

Free School For Ancestor Tracers

Mrs. Janice Lovekamp Fox, formerly of Arenzville, is a recent genealogy enthusiast and is currently busy with the family tree of the Fox family.

She has asked that persons in this area who are interested in genealogy be informed of a course of study of this subject.

She writes:

Since there are a large number of persons in your area interested in this delightful and rewarding hobby I thought they might be interested in a FREE class in "Beginning Genealogy" to be held the first Sunday of the month beginning on October 1st. The time is 2 to 4 at the Central Library, 13th and Olive. This class is being sponsored by the St. Louis Genealogical Society. The St. Louis Genealogical Society is a newly formed group less than one year old. It began when four people got together to help one another in ancestor hunting and has grown to more than forty members. We endeavor to help one another as well as make the public aware that the old family Bible and other records should be preserved. In some cases that Bible is the only proof that a certain person was a member of the family. We accept and help associate members. Any one interested in the Course or the Society write to Mrs. Janice (Lovekamp) Fox at 9550 Margo Lane, St. Louis, Mo., 63134 or Mrs. Dorothy (Amberg) Griffith at 9514 Minerva, Overland, Mo., 63114. We would like to hear from any person in your area interested in genealogical research.

I thought you might also be interested to know that the first three people I met in Genealogical Society were looking for ancestors in our area of Morgan and Cass Co. One was looking for an ancestor raised in my home of Arenzville.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The fall term of the Morgan County Circuit Court commenced on Monday. A large number of important cases are to be tried during the term, which will probably continue three weeks.

A number of prominent gentlemen from the several precincts of the county are in the city this week, in attendance at the court and the fair.

The question of petitioning the city council to order another election on the railroad machine shops subscription is being agitated among our business men. It is believed that the subscription would carry if put to another vote.

Mr. Henry B. Funk of Murrayville has placed upon our table two pieces of new ballad music, of his own composition and published by Lyon & Healy of Chicago. The titles are "Mary Grey and I" and "The Old Farm House on the Hill."

At the county fair yesterday Isaiah Strawn, with his splendid team of three suckling colts harnessed and driven tandem, excited a large share of attention. Baring the dust on the route to the fair grounds, everything was auspicious.

From the Beardstown Central Illinoian:

The city authorities are improving the present low stage of water, by hauling out the shells and macadamizing the levee with them.

The flouring mills of this place are driving ahead with great vigor, running fourteen hours to the day.

We started up street the other day in search of an item, and we saw thirty wagons waiting to unload at Fish's mill.

Hoss racing is becoming quite popular, hereabouts.

We reckon we guess that this is going to be a pretty dry month. No rain yet, and the moon has changed twice.

Menke has put up a new awning in front of his old store. It was needed.

From the Carrollton Gazette: Mr. J. J. Bell, at New Providence, offers for sale his steam saw mill and other property on favorable terms. (ADV.)

Hon. A. G. Burr, our M. C. from this district, and latterly of Winchester, has purchased the Mann property and removed permanently to Carrollton with his family.

Frank Winfield, Esq., has placed us under obligations for a nice bucket of sweet potatoes, and another of apples.

Our city has become all agog with base ball — and our boys have "been away from home" twice on "staving" tours to Jerseyville. The first trip they came home with flying colors, and are said to have literally "cleaned out" the littleville, but, on the last occasion, which was Monday last, they returned with "the boot on the other foot" and their flag at "half mast."

Sergeant Stops In Virginia

By GRACE T. HOLMES
VIRGINIA — Staff Sergeant Elmer David Mondon, after a long tour of military duty in Europe, stopped in Virginia, his birthplace, en route to Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, Tuesday. He will leave Ft. Leonard Wood for an assignment in Vietnam.

He was a paratrooper for six years and was made a Staff Sergeant two and one-half years ago. He is 27 years of age, is married and has three daughters.

Sergeant Mondon joined the service July 1, 1957. He took his basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and jump training at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina. He left the states with the 1st Airborne Battle Group 505th Infantry and on the fifth day of January, 1959, arrived in Minz, Germany; came back from Germany with the 1st Airborne Battle Group 187 Infantry.

He left the paratroopers in April 1962, when he joined the 18th Airborne Corps Advanced Marksmanship Training Unit in North Carolina.

The remainder of 1962-63 he traveled around shooting and learning to shoot.

Learning To Shoot
In April 1963, he went to Oak Ridge, Tenn. and won a 1000 yard shooting match and this is when he learned he could shoot professionally. In August 1963, he went to the National Rifle Matches, held in Camp Perry, Ohio, where he placed in the top 25 shooters in the nation and was awarded a "Master" classification from the National Rifle Association of America.

On October 9, 1963, he left for Munich, Germany, for three years. The last part of '63 and first part of '64 he trained for a new type of shooting called the "Leclerc" matches.

These were named for a famous French Marshall who was killed in World War II. High score in this particular match was 148 out of a possible 160. In 1964 the sergeant set a record in the Leclerc matches of 152.

How Its Done
His accomplishments will be more readily understood from the following list of the requirements necessary to win: The match consists of two rounds slow fire for zero and eight rounds for record, from a 300 meter line for possible score of 40 points; then shooters move to the 400 meter line and load a magazine of 8 rounds of ammunition in a service automatic weapon and run to the 300 meter line and shoot 8 rounds at a 12 inch bulls-eye with the silhouette of a man around it.

When running from the 400 meter line they have 45 seconds to complete the exercise. While lying in position, have exercise called "pops." This consists of 12 inch bulls-eye and a 6 inch ring around it.

This pops up 6 seconds and in that time 2 rounds must be shot at it. Then it goes down for 6 seconds and this continues for 4 times for a total score of 40 points.

Then the shooter moves to 450 meter line and load an 8 round magazine in his rifle. He lays down on his stomach, the target comes up for 45 seconds, they run to the 400 meter line and shoot 2 rounds at a bull's-eye.

Then the target is down for 15 seconds, then comes up for 45 seconds. At this time, shooters run to the 300 meter line, lie down, shoot 2 rounds at a bull's-eye; target down for 15 seconds, up 45 seconds; shooters run to 200 meter line and shoot 2 rounds from sitting position; target down 15 seconds up 45 seconds; shooters run to 100 meter line; shoot 2 rounds from standing position.

This completes the Leclerc match. It is not easy to shoot 140 at any time.

Breaks Own Record
In the 1965 matches, Sergeant Mondon broke his own record with a 156 the first day, 154 second day, 152 third day, which won the 1966 USAEUR matches.

This record has not yet been broken and he was also coach of 12 men and won matches.

After winning USAEUR, he went to Scotland where his teams won again and he set a record in Scotland of 154. He then went on to England and won 152. This completed the Leclerc shooting for 1966 and also, left Sergeant Mondon the European champion.

He left Europe in August 1966 and started shooting for Ft. Leonard Wood Rifle Team in January, 1967. He also shot in 5th Army Rifle matches at Ft.

Riley, Kansas, winning the 200 yard rapid fire with score of 200 out of 200. Mondon also won the 600 yard rifle match, placed second in overall aggregate and won another 8 points toward being a distinguished rifle shooter.

Stays With Rifle Team
He shot well enough to stay with the 5th Army Rifle Team at Ft. Riley. They went to various rifle matches in the United States, such as Little Rock, Arkansas; El Paso, Texas; Oak Ridge, Tenn., and entering all Rifle Army matches at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Making a showing as he did in all these matches, he stayed with All Army Rifle Team and travelled with them the rest of the summer to such places as Oak Ridge, Tenn., Quantico, Virginia, finishing at the National Rifle matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Headed To Vietnam
This ended the shooting season for 1967 and he will go to Vietnam in November. During his tour of duty there, his wife and three daughters will reside in Minonk, Illinois.

Sergeant Mondon has trophies from all over Europe and wherever he has shot in this country and of these he is justly proud. He is a deserving young man who "has pulled himself up by his own boot straps."

When asked how he became interested in marksmanship, he related this anecdote: When quite young, he went squirrel hunting with an uncle, who shot four times at a squirrel without hitting it.

David asked permission to try. He went on from there and brought it down on the first shot, proving to have exceptional eyesight.

RACING ADVICE
NEW YORK (AP) — Where is the best place to watch a sports car race? It's where a long straightaway gives way to a corner, according to Stirling Moss, world famous Grand Prix driver, currently serving as racing director for the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series competition for the Johnson-Wax trophy.

Moss recommends watching the different lines drivers take through corners, how late a driver delays, his braking when he tries to pass another car on a turn, and how early he accelerates coming out of a corner.

If you want an "in" topic these days, you talk about the underground church. It will be discovered soon by radio talk shows and the scholarly television panels. Articles will flourish in the weekly news magazines. Learned and not so learned speakers will be in hot demand to inform the public about the latest happening in religion.

Underground movements are either a violent or gentle reaction against established institutions. They may be political, military groupings which extend their resistance to a hostile government long after a truce has been signed—such as the "underground" in France during the German occupation in World War II. Spain, Ireland, Mexico have lived with such revolutionary elements in this century and others may erupt in unexpected places in South America.

The underground railway was an effective and active organization to assist runaway slaves just prior to the Civil War. Stretching from Dixie to the Canadian border, it was supported by devout and caring people who could no longer accept slavery and the cultural accommodations that the public had made.

Underground movies are flourishing in many of our cities . . . some in reaction to the fixed codes that have governed Hollywood and the film industry, others to satisfy perverted minds and indulgent habits of wealthy patrons who call it art.

The underground church reaches far into the history of religion, recruiting sensitive souls who were spiritually starved by the provisions offered by temple, synagogue or church. Nicodemus is a prominent example of this spiritual torment: He was an official of the religious establishment that was hostile to Jesus, yet personally drawn to this man from Nazareth. He sought instruction from Jesus at night and, by so doing, joined the religious underground.

Dietrich Bonhoeffer was one of the most vital personalities in the underground church of Nazi Germany. His projects were so clever and his leadership so cunning that he operated an entire seminary "underground," moving his students from city to town whenever discovery seemed imminent. The postwar church thrived when the underground became powerful.

Right now there is an underground church in the United States. There are no officers, mailing lists, conventions or handbooks. Don't look for a calendar of events, an annual budget or a women's auxiliary. No choirs or building drives. Just the quiet, informal, even inquest, meeting of people who want to serve the God who is the source of all love and justice. There may be discussion, Bible study, small group worship in somebody's home or apartment. Denominational lines, racial differences have vanished.

The underground church is most visible when it surfaces on community and national social issues. The "members" are present for the peace demonstrations, an interfaith dialogue, a discussion with the city council over fair housing or open housing ordinances. Always it seems to be people trying to love and serve God in the drama, delight and distress of the world. Right now they count the institutional church as dead. But by their faith, they are saying that God is alive.

Vegetables on Bargain List

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Q — My family likes fresh vegetables. Tell me, please, which vegetables are plentiful now and, I hope, favorably priced. With food prices going up, I can't spend a penny more than I have to.

A — The Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that your best buys will probably be cabbage, sweet corn, onions, cucumbers, carrots, green peppers and potatoes. They are in abundant supply and should be priced accordingly.

Q — Is it all right for me to put very hot food in my refrigerator?

A — Most experienced home economists would tell you "no." Their advice is to cool hot foods for about 15 minutes before putting them in the refrigerator. They also advise that when you have a large quantity of hot food to cool and refrigerate, it is better to put it in several smaller containers than in one large container.

Sportsmen Plan Clean-Up Night For New Land

Members of the Jacksonville Sportsmen's Club will converge on an 80 by 400 foot strip of ground, recently acquired, for clearing and cleanup starting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The strip of land is located just west of the club house and members are urged to bring a rake or ax, according to President Herman Horner.

President Horner presided at the regular meeting held last week during which the membership voted to sponsor another Wally Taber show to be held at the ISD auditorium on March 28, 1968.

New members introduced at the meeting were: Joe Tucker, Bob Steinmetz, Tom Keegan and Francis Finch.

Dick Rogers from the Conservation Department reported that the club's pond should be drained to a depth of five feet and treated with chemicals to kill off all weeds and moss. Ultimate goal of the club is to provide ample fishing opportunity for members and guests.

Draining of the pond will start immediately and application of the chemicals will take place Thursday.

Fifty-three members enjoyed a ham dinner prior to the formal meeting.

Interested In Penpal?

By Christine Hembrough

Last week I promised more hints on study and here they are—first—

Are you interested in having a penpal? Here's one for you to write to, if you are. The letter reads:

Dear Christine,
I am a girl nearly sixteen years old. I used to live in Jacksonville, but now I live in California; we moved shortly after my twelfth birthday.

I love to dress dolls, but, so far, I have not met a single other girl who shares this interest with me. Do you think you could find me a penpal who is interested in this? I wouldn't care about age. I would love having someone to compare notes with.

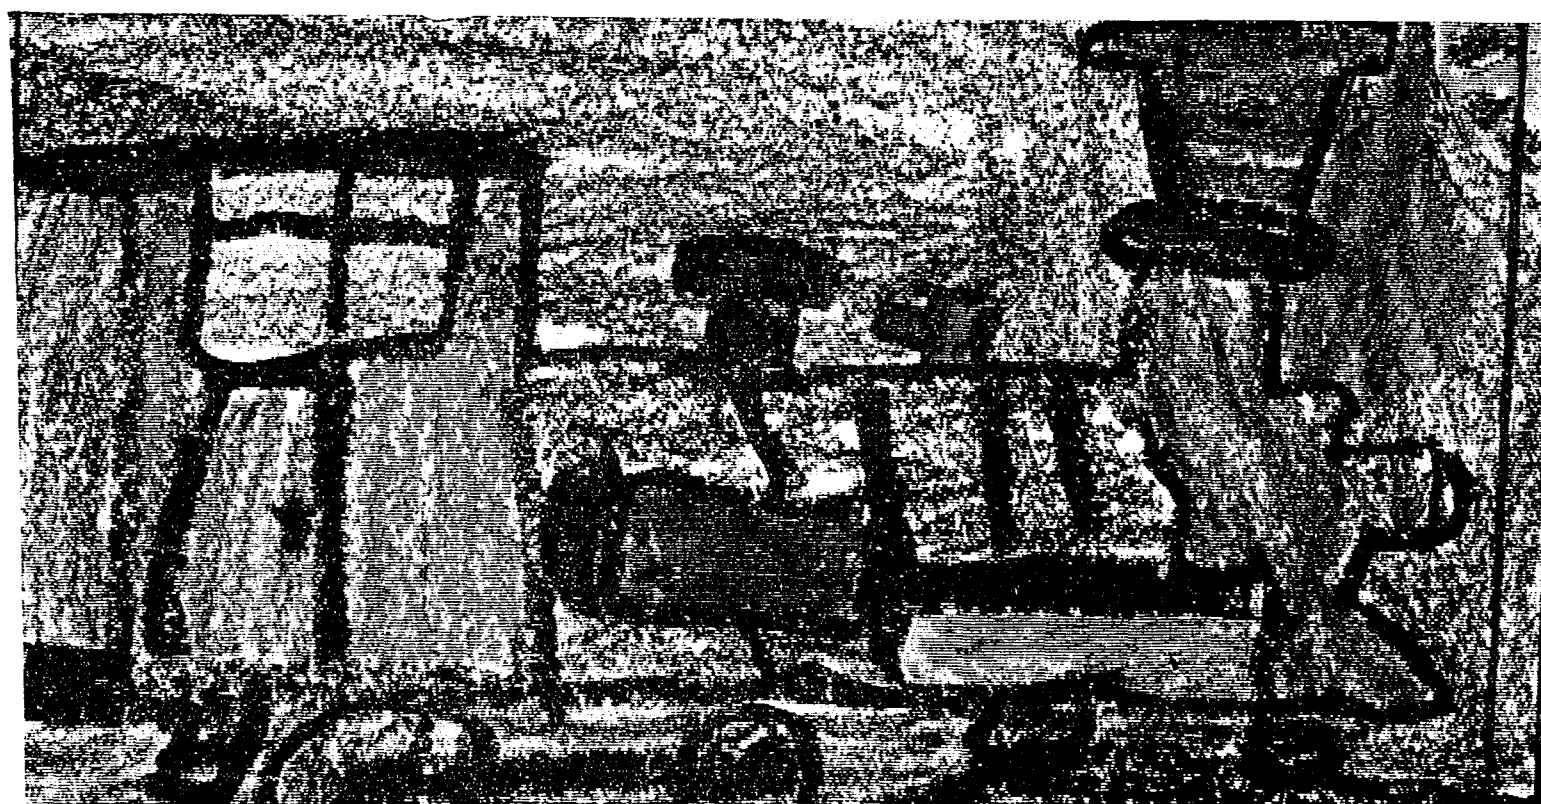

Sincerely,
Ann Seymour, 1787 Len Rey, El Centro, Calif.
Now someone—be sure and write to Ann!

Now to Study
Ok, you say, here I am. I've informed everyone of what I am doing to cut down interferences, I have all necessary materials, and I'm alone in a quiet room as you suggested last week.

Now how do I study?
It's simple—use your head. To begin, skim over the assignment. In nearly all school books, chapters are divided into topics in heavy type. Use this to skim over.

If there isn't any heavy type read the first line of each paragraph. Get an idea of what you're going to study. If there are questions you must write out or if you don't have questions to write out, but there are questions at the end read them and keep them in mind while reading the material. Be on the look out for this information.

Forget That Boy
Now begin to read. And CONCENTRATE. Read with your mind. Think of what you are reading. Don't start thinking of that new boy in class or new

RESCUE FROM THE DEEP

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

The search for the lost submarine "Thresher" in 1963 dramatized the need for a submarine system capable of responding promptly to an emergency anywhere in the world. While nothing could have saved the crew of the "Thresher," it is possible that another submarine could be stranded beyond the reach of present rescue systems.

This danger is being overcome by a new Rescue Mission System being developed by the Navy with the cooperation of the Air Force. The heart of this system is the 49-foot-long Deep Submergence Rescue Vehicle (DSRV) being developed by Lockheed Aircraft Co.'s Missiles and Space Division in Sunnyvale, California.

The first operational prototype of the DSRV will be delivered to the Navy in June 1968. It will probably look something like the Model being tested in the picture above. The Navy plans to have six DSRVs completed by 1970. They will be placed at strategically located home ports around the world.

Meeting Emergency
When a distress call is received girl if you are a boy. If you simply can't read and keep your mind on the subject silently, then read it out loud to yourself. Don't worry about whether it is "silly" or not, it's silly not to study while you're reading.

Take notes if you want to. This helps a lot if you have a bad memory. Study the charts and illustrations. They're there for that purpose.

Now, when you're finished reading you are ready to begin reviewing with the questions. Unless otherwise specified, write in blue or black ink on lined standard paper, or type with a black ribbon on unlined standard paper, in complete sentences. Make yourself clear.

This type of studying is best for: history, home ec, science, and other subjects which are mainly book-discussion subjects.

Next week we'll tackle MEMOIR WORK—it's easy as pie, it really is.

Meanwhile if YOU have any study suggestions, questions or whatever—please WRITE TO: Teen Scene, Junior Page, Jacksonville Journal-Courier, Jacksonville, Ill. 62650

I'll be looking for your LETTER. Bye now—

ed the DSRV unit nearest the emergency will be rushed to a nearby airfield. There the unit will be loaded aboard two C-141A Star Lifter jet cargo craft pulled out of regular service for the emergency. One Star Lifter will carry the 50,000 pound DSRV, the other will transport its support van with all the necessary handling, maintenance and life support gear for the DSRV.

While the Star Lifters streak through the skies toward the jet field nearest the disabled submarine, an atomic submarine will be navigating at top speed through the sea to the port closest to this airfield. As the support equipment is loaded aboard this "Mother" submarine, the DSRV will be fastened atop one of the sub's escape hatches like a sucker fish on a whale.

With the DSRV on its back the atomic sub will speed to the distressed submarine within twenty-four hours of the first call. Aided by its own sonar and radio buoys released by the distressed submarine, the sub-carrying the DSRV would move in as closely as possible.

Let's Go Birding

Old Faithful

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Wherever and whenever we are watching for birds, especially for new ones, we never miss seeing our faithful Robin. All of us know it from its gray back and brick-red breast, from its white - spectacled eyes, and from its clear caroling song. We see it in city streets, in deep woods, in bottomlands, along lake shores, and in the mountain areas.

When we are searching for the Varied Thrush of the Northwest in the wet conifer forests, we find, instead, our old faithful Robin. We see a twig sway and a Robin form drops down into the dripping undergrowth, and we go in search of the thrush. Soon a flitting Robin without the black necklace and orange eye-stripe and wing-bars of its cousin, the Varied Thrush, flits to an open spot. There, far from our home, our Old Faithful greets us.

Shy Singer

In the forests of the Rockies we may also go in search of the shy Townsend's Solitaire. We catch the sound of a sweet note somewhere in the trees. We listen intently for that beautiful long warbled song of the Solitaire, but hear something very familiar, our Old Faithful's broken warbles. To verify our identification, our Robin flies closer to us and sociably greets us with a "tut-tut" and a flit of its tail.

Then in August we return home from our wanderings and are first greeted by a flock of "Old Faithfuls," who no longer pull out the long worms in the lawn for their food. They are dining on the elderberries, the Mountain Ash fruit, and the tiny red crab apples. They challenge us with their "tut-tuts" whenever we wander through the garden.

They will remain with us until the berries and fruits are gone and the cold weather moves closer. Then some morning we shall miss the activity and "tut-tuts" of the Robins; they have headed to the South. One or two of the Old Faithfuls, however, may remain with us and silently search out the scattered berries that are still in the garden.

Then these few will join some other loiterers in our bottomlands or woods where there is

LITTLE JOE

By John Rankin

Danny awoke at the usual time, but there seemed no special need to get up just now so he stretched out on the comfortable bed and listened to the birds outside his bedroom window as they greeted the day with their carefree songs of summer. It was nice not having to get up and hurry off to school.

But the summer vacation would soon be over, and any day now he'd heading back home to his mother's crowded apartment and start back to school all over again. Danny wished he could stay on at Gramps' and Grandma's place where he got to do a lot of things he didn't get to do at home. He loved the freedom of the quiet countryside, and the sound of bawling cows at day-break and hungry pigs squealing for their breakfast was music to his ears compared to the endless clamor of city life.

Even a cackling hen in the barnyard proclaiming to all the world that she had left a fresh egg in the manger held a strange sort of fascination for him. And a drove of ducks wobbling up from the creek at sundown to gobble up their supper of shelled corn was something to watch too.

Big Stories
But he'd have some pretty interesting things to tell the other kids when he got back to school, Danny recalled with some degree of comfort. They would really open their eyes when they heard about the big fish he'd caught down on the creek back of the house.

Maybe they wouldn't even believe that he was such a whopper that he had reeled Gramps' help in landing him. There would be other exciting things to tell too, but just wait till they heard about Little Joe, his pet fox.

It was during the early part of summer, Danny remembered, when he had found the baby fox in the woods. Badly frightened and much too young to look out for himself, he had been left to starve after some hunter had shot his mother and a pack of ruthless hounds had destroyed his mates.

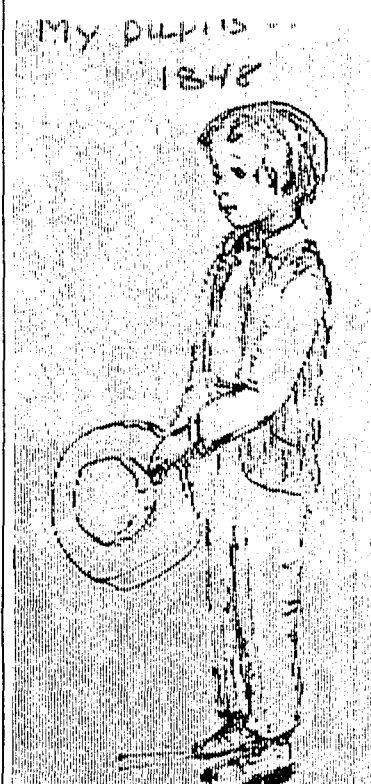

But Grandma had fixed him a box in the kitchen and started him on a daily diet of fresh cow's milk. Right from the start the shy little waif had responded favorably to such kind treatment and before long had grown into a household pet. Eventually though, as he outgrew his cramped quarters and was no longer willing to stay in the box, Gramps had fixed him a more suitable lodging in a pen out back of the house.

But the proper care of such a pet required a lot of attention from somebody. And since Gramps already had his hands full caring for all the farm animals, and with Grandma a bit squeamish about such things, the biggest problem facing Danny at the moment was just who would look out for Little Joe after he was gone. One thing was certain, he couldn't take him with him. Even if he was a pet; nobody kept a live fox in a city apartment.

An Old Letter

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Part 2: Beating Parties

(Editor's note: Last week we began the publication of an old letter, still in the possession of Mrs. Dorr, written by a long-ago school teacher from this area. This continues the letter.)

"There is a regular line of boats now running between the Fort and Galena and many of the boats from St. Louis come up also. I have been told that last Summer there were pleasure parties from Cincinnati winter food consisting of green-briar berries, dried elderberries and wild grapes, old red-haws and crab-apples. During the winter months when we are searching for winter birds, we shall probably run across one or two Old Faithfuls. And whenever we see Old Faithful or hear its "tut-tut," we are happy.

that went up as far as R. Snelling.

"It is truly a delightful trip. Your Parents would enjoy it now. Persuade them to come up this Summer. Stillwater is at the head of Lake St. Croix. The boats going to the fort all come here, The Falls of St. Croix are 50 miles above this place. There is a town, a small one.

"I want you should write me and tell me all the news of Chandlerville, what the people are doing. Has Mr. Smith been installed? Oh, that I could have been with you that day.

"Remember me in love to Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, also Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Where Lydia Ann and Elizabeth, much love to them and all my scholars, every one. They are all dear to me.

"I have felt badly about leaving you so abruptly. It was my intention to make some presents at the expiration of the quarter, but my designs were frustrated. If I am privileged with meeting you again I shall remember your little gifts.

Asks About Students
"Where is Charlie an what is he doing? Also Harrison, and little Alice. Do they study any? Emily, please remember me in particular to Mr. Marcy's family and tell them I shall write soon. Do you know whether Miss Perry is in Petersturg or not?

"Please give my love to Mrs. Ingalls and family and tell her I regret that I have not a copy of the Mag. address. Ask her to write me. Please tell Mrs. Smith that I am looking for a letter from her.

"Girls, I wish you to write me without fail and Caroline and Knowlton and I shall be happy to hear from anyone there that will take the trouble to write me.

Truly A.H.
"Receive much love from your sincere friend and wel-wisher.

OVERLY HELPFUL

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A waitress who tried to be helpful cost Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens some $320.

Mrs. Stevens absentmindedly walked off and left a purse with $320 and some other items in the restaurant. After she left, a waitress, spotting the purse, rushed with it to the front of the cafe and saw a woman getting into her car to drive away. She asked the woman if the purse was hers and received a quick "Yes, thank you" as the car drove off.

About that time Mrs. Stevens realized that she had left the purse at the restaurant and returned—only to find that the purse had been given to another woman.

Wheat Futures Post Best 6-Month Gain With 3-Cent Boost

By ED DE MOCHI
CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures advanced 3 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade during the week, marking up their best five-session forward movement in six months.

Corn futures closed lower when trade came to an end Friday, while oats and soybeans closed on an irregular tone and rye advanced.

Soybean oil and soybean meal closed mixed, but choice steers prices declined.

All September closed out on Wednesday and before the noon deadline this contract was involved in some strange price changes. Wheat and rye September contracts closed on the rise, and September soybeans closed nearly 4 cents higher for the day, reflecting tight supplies at Chicago. Corn prices closed 5½ cents lower on Sep. 20 under a wave of liquidation by longs who were holding some 10 million bushels of that contract. Oats closed lower with corn.

Soybean meal again reflected the movements in the basic product and forced short holders to push up the September price nearly 400 points before the close. Soybean oil, however, was not involved in much of a closing price variation.

When trade closed Friday, wheat futures were 2½ to 3 cents a bushel higher for the week, December 1.55½-56; corn was ½ to 5½ cents lower, December 1.14½-15; oats were 2½ lower to ¼ higher, December 69½ cents; rye was 1½ to 1½ higher, December 1.22½; and soybeans were ¾ lower to 3½ higher, November 2.65½-¾. Soybean oil closed 15 points lower to 9 points higher, October 9.06; and soybean meal was 30 points lower to 385 points higher, October 72.85.

Planned Merger To Affect Mills At Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — Shareholders of Colorado Milling and Elevator company, of which the Beardstown Mills are an integral part, and the Great Western Sugar company have voted at separate meetings to approve previously disclosed plans for merger of the two companies.

Colorado Milling is a flour miller and Great Western Sugar produces beet sugar.

Colorado Milling controls the other company and under the merger a new company named Great Western United Corp. would be created.

The meeting for Colorado Milling shareholders was in Denver, while Great Western shareholders were meeting in Flemington, N. J. Colorado Milling said 483,125 shares were voted for the merger and 2,100 against. Great Western shares for the plan totaled 1,479,535 with 94,317 against.

The plan calls for exchange of common shares on a one for one basis.

Both firms are based in Denver. Colorado Milling earned $1,625,267 or $2.94 a share in fiscal year ended May 31 while Great Western Sugar earned $9,009,312, or $4.42 a share, in the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, on sales of $129,658,494.

Private Renewal In Pittsburgh, Pa. Brightens Slum

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A couple of years ago Cora Street was a dirty, dark, rundown slum. Today it is bright, clean and cheerful. The people who live there are proud of it.

In between came a civic group convinced that private industry can do a better job of housing middle class families by rehabilitating slums than by knocking the buildings flat and starting from scratch.

Action-Housing Inc., a civic organization, bought and rebuilt the 22 row houses along Cora Street as a pilot project to test its theory that massive rehabilitation could be profitable.

Action-Housing spent $230,000 of the money it gets from grants and donations. It broke even by selling the homes back to the landlords.

But Director Bernard E. Loshbough said Cora Street could have been a money-maker. He has started a corporation designed to do the same job on a massive scale and make money. Fourteen businesses have pledged $1 million of the $3.1 million the corporation says it needs to get started.

For the tenants the advantages are more than a clean, pleasant, modern home.

"The people seem to be more neighborly," said Mrs. Richard Robinson of 536 Cora. "Before, you couldn't sit out on the porch and talk to people. Everyone in Pittsburgh said the Cora Street experience indicates that a profit-making corporation, using mass production techniques over a wide area, could clear $500 per unit.

That figure would rise sharply if labor costs were reduced, and the Pittsburgh Building Trades Council has already agreed to eradicate the strict jurisdictional lines that boost building costs.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and 38 other senators have been trying to get the federal government into the picture with a bill for a National Homeowners Foundation Act, which would make low-interest loans so tenants could become homeowners.

"I believe this example of private-sector action in Pittsburgh shows how large scale community improvement can be undertaken," Percy said on a visit to Cora Street.

Steel, Copper Merger Worth $300 Million

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co. moved towards major diversification last week as it announced plans to merge with Cerro Corp., a major copper and alloys firm, in a stock exchange worth more than $300 million.

Bethlehem, the nation's No. 2 steel producer with revenues of $2.7 billion last year has been confined since its incorporation in 1904 to the production of steel and steel products and steel fabrication.

Cerro, with sales of $383 million last year, is a New York-based firm with copper mining and production interests in the United States and South America. The firm also produces copper wire and cable, copper and brass tubing, and alloys and mines gold, silver and lead in South America.

Edmund F. Martin, Bethlehem chairman and chief executive officer, and Robert P. Koenig, Cerro president, said the merger, subject to approval of both companies' directors and stockholders, would involve issuing new Bethlehem convertible preferred stock.

Under the plan, Cerro stockholders would receive one share of the new stock for each share of Cerro common.

Some terms of the new stock issue have been worked out, Martin said. Non-callable for five years, it would have an annual $2.80 dividend rate per share. It also would be converted into Bethlehem common at a rate of 1.33 shares of common for each preferred share.

After the merger, Cerro would be operated under its present management as a subsidiary of Bethlehem, with Koenig as president.

Market Hits Yearly Peak, Then Settles; Personal Income Up

By JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market climbed to a 1967 peak at the beginning of the past week, then settled into a consolidation phase.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials on Monday reached 938.74, its highest level since last October, capping a drive that had carried all through September.

Encouraging developments included the biggest rise by personal income in August in seven months, the largest increase in industrial production in August since May 1966 and an announcement that the United States will start building a $5 billion antimissile defense.

Brokers weren't surprised when the market on Tuesday ran into a "correction" which from time to time punctuates every bull market and took a sharp loss.

Tuesday's market was the broadest in history with 1,497 issues trade on the New York Stock Exchange. The previous record was 1,487.

The market's performances on Wednesday and Thursday were virtual standoffs with the averages showing little change. On Wednesday the biggest Minn. North Dakota Red River block of shares in dollar value ever traded on the New York Stock Exchange crossed the ticker tape. It was a block of 410,000 shares of Harvey Aluminum valued at $22.55 million.

As far as the averages were concerned, the week's action accomplished little.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose .87 of a point to 934.35. The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 340.8 from the previous week's close.

Of 1,632 issues traded, 775 advanced and 712 declined. There were new 1967 highs and 86 new lows. Volume for the week climbed to 56,590,770 shares from 54,012,030 the previous week.

Government and corporate bond prices drifted lower the past week as municipals continued easy. New lows were hit by a number of government securities. In the corporate market, new issue yields remained at about previous levels as investors became increasingly cautious.

GM, Chrysler Boost Production As Ford Assembly Line Idles

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With one of the auto industry's Big Three still knocked out by a strike, the nation's other two leading automakers sharply increased production schedules this past week.

Hikes in car prices also were announced.

Ford Motor Co. has been parked on the production sideline since it was struck at midnight Sept. 6, and no immediate end to the strike is in sight. One UAW official has predicted the walkout will run at least six more weeks.

The UAW's contracts with General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. also have expired, but the union has kept its members working at their plants.

The higher GM and Chrysler schedules were expected to boost production for the past week to 150,805 units, compared with 131,939 the previous week and 173,007 the same week a year ago when all the automakers were in operation. Chrysler and GM said they were operating on original schedules and not making any special effort to fill the gap left by the Ford stoppage.

Although struck, Ford said the prices of its 1968 cars would average $114 more than 1967. The Ford prices generally are in line with those announced earlier by GM. Chrysler led off the 1968 price increases a week earlier when it said its new cars would cost an average $133 more than the 1967 models.

In related action, Volkswagen, the German car builder, said its new cars would cost an average of $48 more in the United States.

Effects of the Ford strike, which has idled 160,000 in company plants across the country, are beginning to be felt in other areas. Hundreds of jobs in supplier factories and in transportation already have vanished and the outlook is expected to grow more bleak the longer the strike continues.

Another danger to the economy was seen by Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler. He predicted "an economy in shambles" if Congress does not enact President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

If the President's program is rejected, Fowler said, members of Congress who vote against it "are likely to find a large share of the responsibility placed on their doorstep" for troublesome economic consequences.

Although new factory orders for durable goods dropped for the second consecutive month in August, Gardner Ackley, the administration's top economic aide, said again that the "economy will be going up too fast" unless income taxes are raised.

Ackley predicted that if business continued to accelerate it would strain capacity.

ACCO Reports Earnings Boost For Fiscal '67

Anderson, Clayton & Co. reported consolidated net income for the year ended July 31, 1967 of $9,246,000 or $2.98 per share, compared to income before extraordinary items of $8,911,000 or $2.87 per share for last year.

There were no extraordinary items for this year; extraordinary items were $5,668,000 or $1.82 per share last year. Changes have been made in reporting to give effect to recommendations recently issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and last year's figures have been restated accordingly.

Sales for the year were $535,395,000 as compared with $541,124,000 last year. Increases in sales of foods, seeds, feeds and warehousing services largely offset a decrease in coffee sales, which were hampered by quota restrictions.

T. J. Barlow, President of Anderson, Clayton, commented that earnings from operations have increased modestly over those of the preceding year — this time despite a one-third reduction in cotton acreage and cottonseed tonnage, despite narrow soybean profit margins and despite the substantially increased investment — type expenditures required to reorient the business from commodity merchandising into more profitable fields.

The Houston-based firm is an international processor and distributor of foods, feeds and seeds, cotton and green coffee and is engaged in merchandise warehousing, insurance and machinery manufacturing. A foods division plant is located in Jacksonville.

Polish Cardinal Not Allowed To Leave Country

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Polish Communist government has again refused to permit Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski to leave the country and as a result no Polish Catholic bishops will attend next week's Vatican synod, a high church official said Saturday. "The Polish episcopate bishops will not be represented," Bishop Zygmunt Choromanski, secretary of the episcopate, said. While Cardinal Wyszynski, primate of Poland, failed to receive a passport, at least two of the prelates scheduled to accompany him on the trip starting Monday got theirs, Church sources said. The two were Poland's second cardinal, Karol Wojtyla, and Bishop Piotr Kalwa of Lublin. The decision to send no delegation thus was a demonstration of Church solidarity and protest against the regime's treatment of the outspoken primate.

Housing Authority To Open 48 Units Within Two Weeks

The third project site of public housing will move into partial occupancy within two weeks according to William Cole, executive director of the Morgan County Housing Authority.

Sixteen one-bedroom low-rent units plus 32 one and two-bedroom units for elderly occupants will be ready for tenants after the first week in October.

Applications are still being accepted at the Housing Authority offices. The office has recently moved from 300 East Walnut to 612 North West Street.

The move from East Walnut was prompted by the opening last week of the Day Care Center for pre-school-age children of working mothers.

Eventually, the housing authority offices will be in the high-rise building on the third site scheduled for completion in the early spring of 1968. Cole said he expected to await completion of the big building before moving again.

The 16 one-bedroom low-rent units are located on the north side of Anna Street and will be similar to units in the other two housing complexes already in operation.

The 32 units designed for elderly occupancy will be the first available to county residents.

Applicants, in order to qualify, must be at least 62 years of age (either husband or wife for couples) and have an income of $3,300 or less annually and have assets of no more than $10,000.

Single persons may also qualify (widows or widowers) under the same provisions but the annual income is limited to $2,600. Once the person becomes an occupant, the annual income provision may be increased up to 25 percent without penalty of moving.

Applications are now being accepted for both types of housing and will be apportioned on the basis of need as well as other factors. Those persons with a disability of some type may also qualify and need not be 62 years of age.

Sixty-four units are rented in the Walnut Terrace complex and 40 similar units are filled at the second site on West Independence.

Mr. Cole said Saturday that both projects seem to be serving the needs of the occupants well. He said no more than a dozen units have been vacated or changed either upon request of his office or other factors involving rules.

Cole said most of the structural work has been completed

8 From Morgan Leave For Army

Eight Morgan county youths left for the St. Louis, Mo. army induction center September 12, according to local Selective Service board 176.

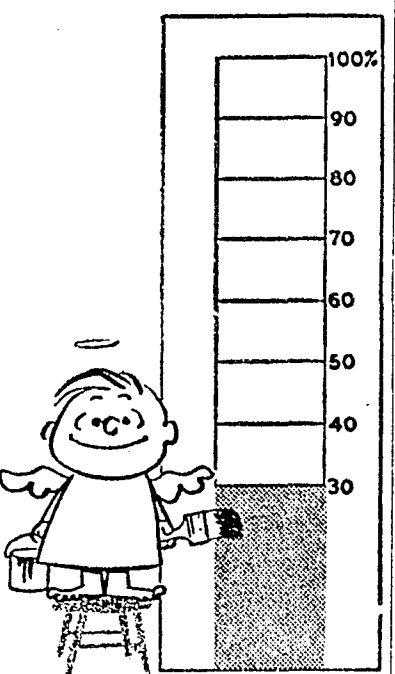

They are Michael Burton, Frank Scott, Stephen Engelbrecht, Larry Craddock, and Alvin Corbridge Jr., all of Jacksonville.

Gerald Koyné of Jacksonville was a volunteer for the draft. Others who left were Charles Brown and David Piercy, both of Waverly.

The local board has a call for three inductees for October, but no call for physical examinations.

United Fund Reaches 25 Percent Of Goal

The United Fund volunteers have their work cut out for them. Only three progress reports remain between now and October 3rd, the date set for the completion of the Campaign.

Division Chairmen, at the meeting Friday afternoon, felt confident that next week's report would find all units of the Campaign Organization turning in the reports necessary to put the Campaign on schedule.

Gilbert Todd said, "We know that it takes time for solicitation plans for Employee Groups to get underway and for workers to make the two or three calls on a prospect that are sometimes necessary. We are intent on reaching our goal by October 3rd. This calls for the cooperation of donors as well as extra effort by solicitors. Donors can speed things up greatly if they are ready to make their gifts on the volunteer's first call."

The campaign chairmen agreed that the reports continue to be encouraging. Increases are consistently good. They said that the generous increases from J. Capps & Sons Clothing Company and the Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association merited special mention. The list of 100% Employee Groups and categories had a number of additions. Township 16-9 was the first township over 100%. Mrs. Boyce Moore, Chairman for the township, credited the generous gift of the Strawn Crossing Grain Company, who increased their gift 33%, as making it possible.

A complete list of all 100% Employee Groups, Business Categories, and Townships will be published at the close of the campaign.

The report by Divisions was:

Div. I	Finance	$ 7,708.00	— 64%
Div. II	Key Employers	13,429.00	— 33%
Div. III	Education	1,641.00	— 23%
Div. IV	County	1,334.00	— 22%
Div. V	Government	615.00	— 30%

That in 1966 one and a half million merit badges were earned by Boy Scouts in 109 different subjects and over 30,000 Eagle Scout Awards were presented?

That Catholic Charities provided services to 15 unmarried mothers? This included counseling as well as maternity home placement for those who needed such care.

That Elm City Rehabilitation Center has grown from an agency aiding 8 clients in 1959 to the present servicing of 78 clients monthly?

That the American Red Cross is the largest single blood collecting service in the world. Because Morgan County participates by collecting blood and pays 7¢ per resident (totaling over $2,000 in 1966), every resident of Morgan County will receive blood free of charge no matter where they are in the United States at the time of need?

That it takes a lot of rich dough for the Girl Scout Program to mold today's Brownies into tomorrow's smart cookies?

That the Morgan County United Fund is one of 2,225 United Funds conducting Campaigns this year. In 1966 these campaigns raised $670 million?

YOU helped make all of this possible when you gave to the Morgan County United Fund.
